Four Killed in Port Ewen Auto Crash

By JON POWERS

PORT EWEN — Four persons were killed and another injured Sunday night in a shattering two-car, head-on crash on Route 9W in Port Ewen.

The tragic mishap marked the worst auto accident in Ulster County this year. The four victims brought the county highway death toll to 49 for 1970, 12 short of the 1969 total.

Killed in Sunday's crash were Theodore E. Bauer, 19, of Ulster Park; William Eberlein, 41, of Port Ewen and Helen Roshetski, 46, and Victoria Roshetski, 18, both of RD 1, Kingston.

Gregory Roshetski, 16, a back-seat passenger in one of the cars, sustained a fractured left leg in the mishap and was reported today to be in "good" condition at Kingston Hospital.

Investigating troopers said that both cars were equipped with seat belts, but added that the safety devices were not in use at the time of the crash.

The accident, noted Highland State Police, occurred at 10:20 p.m. on Route 9W near the intersection of Ulster Avenue in the Town of Esopus.

According to police, a car operated by Bauer was traveling south on Route 9W and attempting a left hand turn across the highway and into Ulster Avenue. The autos, said police, collided head-on in the northbound driving lane.

The two cars were demolished upon impact, authorities said.

Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser was at the scene minutes after the crash.

The four victims were transported to Kingston Hospital where they were pronounced dead on arrival. Gregory Roshetski also was taken to Kingston Hospital where he was treated for leg injuries.

The three members of the Roshetski family were all passengers in the car operated by Bauer. Eberlein was traveling alone at the time of the crash, police reported.

Bureau of Criminal Investigation authorities from the Lake Katrine State Police Barracks are continuing their investigation into the crash, it was noted. Kingston troopers, as well as Highland State Police, assisted at the scene.

The accident, police said, occurred in the vicinity of the Port Ewen Products Company plant on Route 9W.

Sunday's crash was the worst in Ulster County since a 99-car, four-engine freight train rammed into an auto at a crossing near Ardonia on Sept. 28, 1969, killing five passengers in the car.

Five teenagers were killed August 20, 1967, when their car crashed into a culvert on Route 28 in the Town of Shandaken.

Sunday's crash was also the worst on New York State highways over the weekend, as it claimed the lives of four of the six persons killed in accidental highway mishaps since Friday night.

One of those killed was the driver of a car that collided with a charter bus near Route 9W in the Orange County Town of Highlands Friday night. Twenty other persons were injured in that mishap.

The state's accidental death toll for the weekend totaled 20, and included eight persons, one an 11-year-old New Paltz boy, who perished in fires. One man was killed in a gun accident and another lost his life when his car slipped off a jack and crushed him.

Aside from Sunday's fatal crash, the accident log for Ulster County highways was light, according to police authorities. Slick highways caused by freezing rain during the early part of the weekend are now clear, police said.

A SHOCKED RESIDENT POINTS TO THE PIONEER HOTEL TOP FLOORS

Paltz Yule Tree Blaze Claims Life of Boy, 11

NEW PALTZ — Tragedy marked the beginning of the Christmas holiday for a Wallkill Central School District physical education teacher, his wife and their five young children after a roaring fire gutted their New Paltz home early Sunday morning, killing the family's eldest son.

Kenneth Brooker, 35, and his 30-year-old wife, Gladys, are both in satisfactory condition today at the Burns Treatment Center at Albany Medical Center. Four children in the Brooker family, their ages ranging from two to eight years, are day morning, went downstairs and turned on the Christmas tree lights. A short circuit caused by faulty wiring apparently sent sparks shooting into the tree.

The tree burst into flames and the fire quickly spread throughout the living room and dining area of the home.

Brooker and his wife raced through the house and grabbed four of their children; Brenda, 8, Michele, 6, Scott, 4, and Kenneth, 2 and carried them out of the burning home. Brooker then returned to the house and took his eldest son to a back door, but the boy eluded his father's grasp and went into a downstairs bathroom. His body was found later by firemen.

The two parents sustained extensive burns. They were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance and later rushed to the Albany Medical Center for emergency treatment. The four other Brooker children were not injured.

The two-story wooden home was completely gutted by the fire. The first alarm was sounded at 7:26 a.m. Three trucks from the New Paltz fire district responded and tankers from Clintondale and Highland were later called to the scene to douse the blaze.

BCI Investigator F. D. Gardner of the Lake Katrine BCI is heading the investigation of the fatal blaze.

A total of eight persons died in fires throughout New York State over the weekend, including a family of five who perished in a blaze early today in Sodus, a community 30 miles east of Rochester.

Police said the Sodus fire apparently was ignited by sparks from one of two wood burning stoves that had been lit earlier in the morning. The fire broke out between 4 and 5 a.m. today, according to Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies.

Killed in the blaze were George Kenney, 50; his wife Mildred, 42; and their children, Rebecca, 19, Anna, 12 and Donald, 9. Firemen found two bodies on the living room floor, two on a couch in the living room and the fifth body in a first floor bedroom at the rear of the two-story frame house.

Officials said Mrs. Kenney's brother, Robert Kneeter, 40, who lived with the family, told them he had built fires in wood burning stoves in the living room and kitchen before leaving the house for work at 4 a.m. The cause of the fire, however, was not immediately ascertained.

Arson Possible in Arizona Fire, 29 Dead

(Combined Wire Services)

TUCSON, Ariz. — A fire raced up seven stories through laundry chutes and open stairwells in the Pioneer Hotel Sunday, killing 29 persons and injuring 44. Police investigated the possibility of arson.

Seven of the dead were burned so badly that they had not yet been identified early today.

Six of the injured were reported in critical condition.

Police said several juveniles with records of arson were questioned Sunday night. They would not elaborate, but Fire Capt. Ellis Franklin said, "We are now conducting an investigation into the possibility of arson. There is enough evidence to warrant the investigation."

Franklin injured a leg when an extension ladder collapsed during the fire.

The Pioneer was built in 1929 and was exempt from a more recent ordinance requiring sprinkler and automatic fire alarm systems.

"It is my opinion that if there had been adequate sprinkler systems and an alarm system, no one would have lost his life,"

Fire Battalion Chief Robert Slagel said. The fire filled the hallways with "superheated air" which kept many occupants from escaping, he said.

About 640 persons were attending parties on the lower levels. They escaped uninjured.

The fire raged out of control for more than an hour as 200 firemen concentrated on rescuing the hotel's 112 guests.

One survivor, Mrs. Ann Arneson, of Washington, D.C., was carried down a ladder from the fourth floor.

"I never thought I would get out alive. I could feel the heat coming through the ceiling and my room was filled with smoke," she said.

"I couldn't breathe and couldn't see but then this fireman pushed me out the window and another fireman carried me down."

Tucson photographer Jack Sheaffer, one of the first on the scene, said there were so many injured "they were taking them to hospitals in taxicabs."

The fire began on the third floor and spread to the top of the 10-story building. Light bulbs melted on the fourth floor and Slagel said this meant the 1,350 degrees. Television sets and ceramic light fixtures also melted.

One woman jumped to her death from the seventh floor. A few guests escaped by climbing down blankets and sheets tied together.

A least a half dozen victims were children.

The fire in the 41-year-old building broke out on the sixth floor and flared through hallways and staircases, penning about 60 persons in their rooms with no way out except through the windows.

Among the dead were 13 prominent northern Mexico citizens, including two grandchildren of former Sonora Gov. Ignacio Soto, the wife and five children of Francisco Luken, Sonora police chief, and Dr. Jose Jesus Antillon of Hermosillo, one of his country's top cardiologists.

Harold Steinfeld, 82, builder of the hotel and owner of a department store died with his wife Peggy in their penthouse apartment.

Many of the survivors said they awoke with smoke pouring into their rooms.

Two firemen were injured when a fire department ladder broke during the rescue attempts. Capt. Ellis Franklin hung upside down for 25 minutes on a broken 45-foot ladder before he could be rescued.

On the ground floor 650 persons attending three Christmas banquets were evacuated safely.

The hotel was sold by Steinfeld in 1963.

Asst. Fire Chief R. B. Slagel said construction of the building was completed in 1929 and it was not subject to building code safety changes made later.

"Today all interior stairways must be totally enclosed—that is, there must be a door between the hallway and the stairway," Slagel said.

"Had this been the case here, the blaze probably would have been confined to the original fire. The stairway acted like a chimney and the heat went right on up it and into the hallways."

Slagel said that "if there had been a sprinkler system, no one would have died." However, city fire safety laws do not require such systems.

WLADYSLAW GOMULKA

EDWARD GIERKE

Gomulka Out in Poland Shift

WARSAW (AP) — Poland's now Communist leadership indicates it will revise the economic plans that spawned last week's rioting and will maintain total allegiance to Moscow.

Otherwise, its future course is unclear. Western observers consider the new party First Secretary Edward Gierke a dedicated Communist identified with neither the liberal nor the nationalistic party factions.

Radio Warsaw reported Sunday that Gierke, the party's top economist and party secretary of Silesia, had replaced Wladyslaw Gomulka, who resigned along with President Marian Pychalski and three other members of the Politburo. Apparently Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz was not affected.

Gierke's success in keeping his home province quiet was seen as a key to his promotion.

As bloody riots shook Gdansk, Gdynia, Sopot, Szczecin and Slupsk — shipbuilding, seaport and industrial centers in the north—workers remained quiet in industrial Silesia, where violence was widespread during the bread riots that brought Gomulka to power in 1956.

Last week's disturbances began after the Gomulka regime raised prices 17 to 20 per cent on food, clothing and other essentials in a prelude to a new five-year plan that was to begin next month.

In a television address after his elevation, Gierke said: "We will have to reconsider carefully the problem of the economic plan for next year and for the whole five-year period."

The riots, he said, resulted from "inconsiderate concepts in economic policy. We will remove these." He said his administration will consult with the working class and intelligentsia.

He said hostile forces cannot lead us astray or return us from the road of Socialism. We are going together with the whole great Socialist community and chiefly with our tested friend and ally, the Soviet Union."

Radio Warsaw said the party's Central Committee instructed the new regime to consider "possibilities for improving the material situation of low-wage families with many children, who, as a result of the change in prices, have suffered most severe losses in their budgets."

Observers anticipated bonuses or wage raises will be given to compensate for the increased living costs.

Sunday's events returned to prominence Mieczyslaw Moczar, 56, the hard-line former head of the secret police who lost a power struggle to Gomulka in 1968. He is one of the five new members of the Politburo named to replace those purged.

Moczar was interior minister and leader of the Partisans, a veterans' organization that pushed a purge of Jews in the aftermath of the Middle East war in 1967 and student riots early in 1968.

The radio broadcast that announced Sunday's shakeup said Gomulka, who is 66, resigned because of poor health, and a "gravely ill" with circulatory ailments and failing eyesight.

Health Minister Jan Koszowski said he suffered a severe attack Saturday and would be hospitalized for an extended period.

Communist sources in Moscow speculated that Gomulka was ousted by hard-line members of the Polish Communist party who ordered the food price increases to provoke unrest that would bring down the party chief.

Cablevision Upping Charge February 1

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Kingston Cablevision has notified the mayor, alderman-at-large and the 13 aldermen that it will increase its rates to city subscribers from the present $4.95 per month to $5.95 per month beginning Feb. 1, 1971.

Thomas J. O'Keefe, general manager of Cablevision, in a Dec. 18 letter to Mayor Francis R. Koenig, Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo and the aldermen, cites rising costs for the increase plus the fact that the company's $4.95 rate has remained the same since Cablevision was granted a franchise in Kingston in 1959.

The company is using a 1965 ruling by the state comptroller as the legal basis for the rate increase, thus bypassing city approval. Commenting on that ruling, O'Keefe states in the letter to city officials, "Although we have in the past and still wish to cooperate fully with the city in this matter (the rate increase) we would like to invite your attention to a prior opinion of the comptroller of the State of New York to the effect that municipalities lack authority to establish and regulate rates charged to subscribers by community antenna television systems."

While raising the rate, the company also agrees to pay the city a four per cent franchise fee instead of the current three per cent. According to the city treasurer's office, the three per cent franchise fee has averaged about $11,200 for the past several years (based on the company's gross receipts) and a one per cent increase would mean about another $3,500 in taxes for the city.

O'Keefe also points out a lack of action by the Common Council on the company's request for an increase from $4.95 to $6.50 originally requested on March 26, 1969. He states that the matter was not reviewed by the Council's Laws and Rules Committee until April 29, 1970, and did not see Council action (it was rejected) until April 7, 1970.

O'Keefe, noting that the company has had only a one per cent return on its investment during the past five years, states that labor costs have increased 60 per cent in that period and material costs by 20 per cent. He also notes that the company has spent $250,000 in rehabilitating and converting the distribution system. O'Keefe also said that the company has reduced its installation charge from the original $24.50 to $19.50 during the past 11 years.

There will also be a rate change for commercial outlet, but that will be a reduction from the current $7.95 to the proposed $5.95. It will also take effect on Feb. 1.

Blue Cross Seeks Increase of 19.3 Pct.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Associated Hospital Service of New York, a regional Blue Cross agency, plans to seek state approval of an average increase of 19.3 per cent in rates for 1.5 million community-rated subscriber contracts.

The plan, which would take effect May 1, 1971, was announced Saturday. It would affect 3.4 million individuals in New York City, Long Island and parts of Westchester County.

This is the same group hit by

Williams Heads Rhinebeck FD

RHINEBECK—Recent elections in the Rhinebeck Fire Department found Sandy Williams elected to a second term as president.

Ralph Whittaker was returned to the office of first deputy chief and Paul Mierop resumed the duties of second deputy chief.

an average 43.3 per cent increase in Blue Cross rates a little over a year ago. If the new rate rise is approved by the State Insurance Department, community-rated subscribers will have received an average 62.6 per cent increase over two years.

The proposed changes do not affect subscribers over 65 years old. Blue Cross said the recipients of the proposed increased costs will receive increased out-patient and obstetrical care benefits.

The new rate proposal was announced by J. Douglas Colman, president of Associated Hospital Service of New York—the official name for Blue Cross—at a news conference.

Blue Cross will hold a public hearing on the proposals Jan. 5, after which it will formally file the request with the State Insurance Department. The department will make a decision following a public hearing of its own.

Blue Cross said of the 19.3 per cent increase, 11.8 per cent was needed to meet additional hospital costs, 3.3 per cent to restore and maintain statutory reserve, 2.7 per cent for additional benefits and 1.5 per cent for contingencies and other needs.

Community-rated subscribers include families, individuals and some groups who do not have experience-rated contracts which are re-rated every year. Community-subscriber contract account for a little more than 40 per cent of Blue Cross' 3.8 million subscriber contracts, the remainder being experience-rated.

The Needs of a Family of Four—Requires 18 Pct. More $$ Than 1967

WASHINGTON (AP)—A family of four living in a city needs 18 per cent more money to maintain the same standard of living it had in 1967, says the government.

Based on spring 1970 costs, a 6 per cent increase from the year before, a family of four must earn $6,960 for a low standard of living and $10,664 for an intermediate standard.

The report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics Sunday did not include an additional 3 per cent cost increase since spring, which would raise the figures to $7,168 and $10,893.

Other government figures show more than half the nation's work force, some 45 million persons, average only $6,292 a year or less than the amount required for a low living standard.

The government report said taxes accounted for 30 to 40 per cent of the increase in the different family budgets. The estimated cost of Social Security, disability insurance and personal income taxes was $1,064 for the low living standard and $1,920 for an intermediate budget.

The government said family living costs were lowest in small cities and the South, although budget costs varied widely among cities and regions.

In another development related to the nation's economy, Dr. Paul A. Samuelson said Sunday he believes new steps taken by the Nixon administration to cure inflation are working but more is needed.

The 1970 Nobel Prize winner in economics said Nixon passed up a chance early in 1969 to use his leadership to back up fiscal and monetary policy.

Samuelson recommended compulsory arbitration of labor disputes that affect the public interest.

He appeared on NBC's radio-television program "Meet the Press."

Egyptians in Moscow With Hands Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another high-level Egyptian delegation began talks in Moscow today and was expected to get most of what it asks for. Vice President Ali Sabry and three other Cabinet ministers arrived Sunday to request more military and economic aid. Sources in Moscow said the Egyptians feel they will need more arms if the cease-fire along the Suez Canal is not extended beyond Feb. 5.

Tass, reporting the arrival of Egyptians for an eight-day visit, said the Soviet government had pledged "to give all-round support to the U.A.R. in its struggle against Israeli imperialist aggression." The Soviet news agency also reported that a senior Communist party emissary in Cairo had "reaffirmed the Soviet Union's steady resolve" to back the Egyptians. This tended to confirm predictions by diplomatic sources in Moscow that Sabry and his delegation will get pretty much what they want. Informants in the Soviet capital said the Egyptians and the Russians would also discuss joint diplomatic action to cope with the possibility of Israel's returning to the U.N. peace talks that have been dormant since September. U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring is to report to the Security Council Jan. 5 on the prospects for his mission to negotiate a Middle East peace settlement, and Arab diplomats in Moscow say they expect Israel to rejoin the talks before the end of January. Israel left the talks after accusing Egypt of violating the cease-fire by moving Soviet anti-aircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal. The Israeli Cabinet met in Jerusalem Sunday and once again postponed its decision to return to the talks. An announcement said only that "a political discussion commenced and will continue at the next Cabinet session." The Israeli government has indicated willingness to rejoin the talks, but is seeking certain U.S. military and political commitments before it does.

ISRAEL-BOUND — Alfred Rose (L) and his son Barry, pictured, and another son, David, are preparing for their upcoming trip to Israel. Rose, co-chairman of the Kingston United Jewish Appeal Drive, will, in addition to his highly intensified UJA mission, take a complete tour of Israel. He and his sons will meet with high government officials, including Golda Meir and Moshe Dayan and visit strategic Army bases, otherwise closed to tourists. Money raised annually in the drive is used to help Israel meet her economic and educational needs. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Demonstrators, Police Battle At Soviet U.N. Mission

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fists swinging violence erupted Sunday when police fought Jewish and Polish-American demonstrators trying to storm barricades blocking passage to the Soviet U.N. mission. Nine policemen were injured. Four persons were arrested, most on charges of disorderly conduct. One person was charged with assaulting a policeman and inciting to riot. The most seriously injured was a policeman who sustained a broken ankle.

Chanting demonstrators from two rallies more than a mile apart converged on streets near the mid-Manhattan mission and charged wooden police barricades in attempts to reach the white stone building.

Hundreds of persons among in the assault wave were wearing buttons representing the militant Jewish Defense League. They were part of a rally of some 6,000 persons sponsored by the American Conference on Soviet Jewry to protest the Leningrad trial of 11 persons, 10 of them believed to be Jews, on charges of attempted airliner hijacking. Many demonstrators involved

Some 500 members of the Polish-American Congress of New York and New Jersey also attempted an invasion against the Polish U.N. mission four blocks from the Soviet mission to protest suppression of the rioting which shook three Polish cities last week. Police repelled them after a brief scuffle.

N. Y. Taxis Are Rolling

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yellow taxicabs dotted city streets for the first time in 15 days Sunday on approval of a contract dependent on the City Council authorization of a 40 per cent fare increase to give the drivers higher wages.

Most of the city's 11,700 taxis were cruising their beats today fueled by a shaky truce spelled out by Harry Van Arsdale Jr., president of Local 3036 of the Taxi Drivers Union, who warned there would be another walkout unless the council acted quickly and without "any undue delay."

He said the vote by some 4,500 union members during a tense meeting technically only was to "discontinue" the strike staged Dec. 12 by 36,000 fleet and independent cab drivers. Some drivers, apparently economically hardpressed by the walkout which sought to boost their $150 weekly salaries to $200, left the Manhattan

Center meeting, strode immediately to their cabs, removed the "on strike" signs and began cruising for fares under the existent rate of 45 cents at the first drop of the meter and 10 cents for each additional sixth of a mile.

The fare hike proposal, submitted to the council by Mayor John V. Lindsay, would boost the cost of the $1.35 average cab ride to nearly $2 plus 25 cents a head for each passenger after the first.

A dissident faction opposing the settlement clashed briefly with cabbies entering the meeting to vote. A woman handing out leaflets was slapped in the face by a cabbie but there were no arrests. Police broke up the crowd. "We got nothing. We got railroaded," said cabbie Jack Simons.

Exact terms of the agreement were not announced, but the pact reportedly reduces commissions for first year drivers to 42 per cent to pay for improved fringe benefits for career drivers. The new drivers would receive 2 per cent increases each year until they hit 50 per cent.

Also included was a $30-a-week pay hike as the drivers' share of the anticipated fare increase.

Rebuffed Hughes Aide Remains Determined

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Robert A. Maheu, rebuffed in state court in an attempt to retain his post as Howard Hughes' chief of Nevada operations, says he will continue trying to determine whether the billionaire is safe. During a bitter two-week court battle, Maheu contended the recluse was "spirited away" from this gambling city Thanksgiving eve and that only Hughes could dismiss him because "we had a pact to be together the rest of our lives." Control of the $300 million Nevada empire owned by the mysterious Hughes was given to its corporate parent, Hughes Tool Co., by District Court Judge Howard Babcock, who upheld the firing Saturday. Maheu, a former counterspy and Boy Scout leader, was the architect of Hughes' interests here and had been in charge of them since 1966, when the industrialist arrived.

After Hughes left here last month — under circumstances still not fully explained — Maheu was fired by the board of directors of Hughes Tool Co., which is wholly owned by Hughes. But he obtained a temporary restraining order and the battle moved into court.

Babcock dismissed the restraining order, saying it was apparent Maheu was fired after Hughes "determined to terminate his relationship with Mr. Maheu through appropriate corporate action." The judge also granted the tool company a permanent injunction barring Maheu and his security chief, Jack Hooper, from occupying Hughes' facilities or operating them.

New Auburn Prison Disruption Quelled

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — A sectional Facility held 35 hostages and disturbance in as many months at a state-operated prison here was quelled Sunday when guards used tear gas to force about 30 inmates back into their cells.

The disruption broke out shortly after noon, prison authorities said, and involved inmates who took part in a major disturbance early in November. Authorities said the group refused to report for an exercise period, smashed windows, arched beds apart and armed themselves with clubs made from the torn-down beds.

On Nov. 4, more than 400 inmates at the Auburn Correctional Facility held 35 hostages for seven hours and controlled a major portion of the maximum-security institution. Six guards were injured.

Auburn Superintendent Harold Fritz said there were no reported injuries to either guards or prisoners and that no hostages were taken during Sunday's "problem."

Fritz did not give a reason for the disturbance other than to say the inmates refused to go to the exercise yard. He said prison officials talked with leaders of the group and that amnesty was granted before the window-breaking spree.

"When it became obvious that they were using the talks as a stalling tactic, we told them that if they did not get back to their cells we would have to use force," Fritz said. "We tried to reason with them before using the gas."

Fritz said that shortly after noon, the group of 30 men refused to report to the exercise yard. He said the particular group of men was among those confined to "special quarters" established after the Nov. 4 disturbance. He said the men are marched to the yard daily for fresh air and exercise.

The superintendent, who was not at the prison when the disruption occurred, said the commanding officer at the institution immediately sealed off the affected area—the upper tier in one cell block—and notified Fritz.

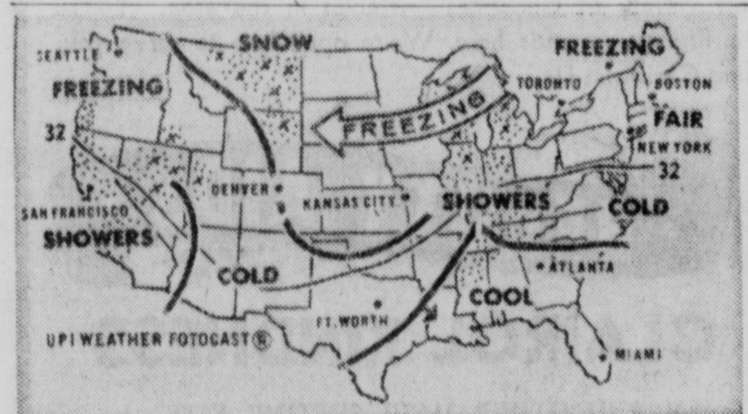

Some off duty guards were called in as a precautionary measure and outside police agencies alerted, though not activated, Fritz added.

CHANGE OF PASTORS—Former and new pastors of the Kingston Seventh Day Adventist Church were honored at a luncheon Saturday at the church, 24 West Union Street. Taking part in the festivities were (L-R) the Rev. Gilbert Foster, former pastor who has been assigned to the Poughkeepsie SDA church and Mrs. Foster; the Rev. Herbert Henley, new pastor who recently arrived to assume the Kingston post, Mrs. Henley and William M. Smith Jr., local elder. (Freeman Photo by Kruh).

18-Year-Old Balloting Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today upheld the 18-year-old vote law for national elections but not in state and local balloting.

Justice Hugo L. Black announced the judgment of the court in an opinion for himself alone.

Justice William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron

R. White and Thurgood Marshall would have applied the law to state and local elections. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Harry A. Blackmun agreed with Black that Congress could not interfere with the age for voters set by states for state and local elections.

At the same time, the court found constitutional two other key sections of the 1970 Voting Rights act. One strikes down state residency rules for presidential elections; the other bans literacy tests for voting throughout the country. The court acted in four cases involving Oregon, Texas, Arizona and Idaho.

The provision lowering the voting age to 18 in national elections becomes operative Jan. 1. The court was unanimous on the literacy test section of the law. The vote on the residency requirements was 8 to 1, with Justice John M. Harlan dissenting.

Oregon and Texas asked the court to declare the law an unconstitutional invasion of the right of states to set voter qualifications. The Nixon administration opposed passage of the measure on constitutional grounds but was required to defend it under challenge in the high court.

The Justice Department had also asked that sections on residency rules to ban literacy tests be upheld. The court acted in its last session before taking a holiday recess. It returns Monday, Jan. 11.

Drug Charge Arrests in Rhinebeck

RHINEBECK—Two Poughkeepsie teenagers died innocent to charges of sixth degree possession of a dangerous drug and unlawful possession of a narcotics implement before Town of Hyde Park Justice Eugene Simpson Sunday morning and had their cases adjourned until Jan. 7, according to Rhinebeck State Police.

Stephan Hendrickson, 16, of 5 Carmen Drive and William Forster, 17, of Lincoln Drive were stopped by Rhinebeck State Police at about 7:15 a.m. Sunday on Route 9 in the Town of Rhinebeck for a routine traffic check. A search of the vehicle revealed a quantity of marijuana and a pipe, authorities said.

Arrests Listed

TOWN OF KINGSTON—John DeLorenze, supervisor of Gelco Toys, Route 9W, Town of Ulster and Joseph Bockelman, assistant manager of Big Scot Discount Department Store, Route 28, Kingston, were arrested over the weekend by Kingston State Police on a charge of selling non-essential items on Sunday. The complaint was signed by the manager of Caldor of Kingston Inc., Robert Phillips, who claimed the managers of Gelco and Big Scot were in violation of Article 2, Section 9 of the general business law. Both men were arraigned before Town of Kingston Justice Robert E. Farrigan and released in their own recognizance for a hearing, Dec. 30 at 8 p. m.

They were released in the custody of their parents for the later court hearing.

Upstate Slaying Linked to Theft

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (UPI)—The slaying of a Rochester man, whose frozen body was found in a deserted truck on a rural Ontario County road Saturday, was linked today to organized crime and the theft of $14,000 worth of liquor.

State police said their investigation of the shooting of William T. Constable Jr., 35, led 230 cases of stolen liquor.

They withheld the exact location at which the liquor was found, but a statement released here said "arrests and confiscation of additional stolen liquor will be made at a later date."

Constable's body, with a single bullet wound in the back of the head, was found in the rear of a pickup truck buried in snow on a dirt road off Route 251 in the town of Victor. Troopers said he had been dead since early last week.

The FBI and U. S. Treasury agents, from the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit, were working on the case because the liquor theft constituted an interstate commerce violation.

The liquor was taken Dec. 7 from a parked trailer at Eastern Freight Ways Inc. in Rochester. The thieves hauled the cases of liquor from the scene in a stolen Eastern Freight Ways' truck.

Constable, who moved to Rochester five years ago from Geneva, had subcontracted with Bar-Mon Construction Co. Inc., a firm linked with Frank Valenti, reputed underworld boss in the Rochester area, troopers said.

Bar-Mon had done work at Rochester's landfill operation for nearly three months last spring.

Police said Constable was last seen alive at the city controller's office in Rochester Dec. 14. He asked when the city was going to pay Bar-Mon for the work, which was done under an emergency contract.

Reportedly the city had paid Bar-Mon several days earlier, but Bar-Mon president Angelo Monachino said he had not had a chance to give Constable the pay for his share of the work.

Grand Union Plans Combination Store in New Jersey

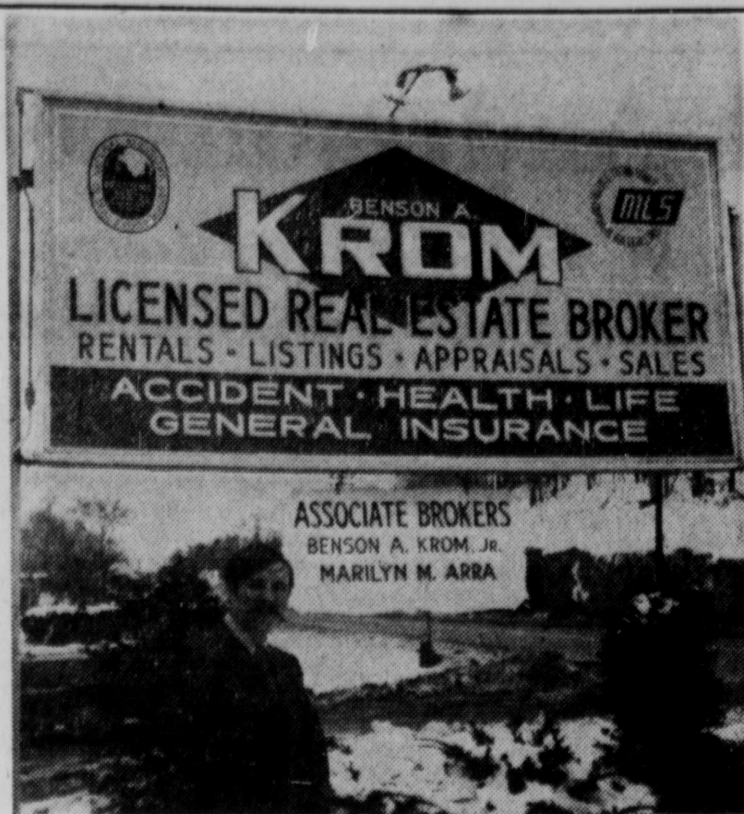

EAST PATERSON, N. J. The Grand Union Company has signed a lease for a new 100-thousand square foot combination Grand Union supermarket and Grand Way discount general merchandise store in Oakland, N. J. Construction of the store is expected to start soon on an 11-acre site on the southeast corner of Ramapo Valley Road (Route 202) and Maple Avenue.

The food section of the store will be 30,000 square feet; the general merchandise section 70,000. Parking will be available for more than 700 cars. "Signing of this lease for a new Grand Way in Oakland marks the initiation of our program to resume expansion of the company's general merchandise retailing division. We expect to open three new Grand Ways in 1971-72 and to accelerate the division's growth thereafter," said Charles Rodman, Grand Union president. Thirty-one stores now comprise the Grand Way general merchandise division of The Grand Union Company, which also operates 538 supermarkets.

Kingston Hospital Christmas Party Held

KINGSTON The Kingston Hospital held its annual Christmas party for members of the medical staff, Board of Trustees and more than 350 employees at the Nurse's Residence recently. A skit titled "The Dolly Sisters Plus One" was presented by Clair Coddington, Karen Casey and Michael Pagliaro. Angie Dickinson modeled her idea of the perfect pant suit uniform and tap danced to her own harmonica accompaniment. Anthony R. Triulzi, Administrator of the Hospital, announced the winners of the department decoration contest and presented the four winning departments with boxes of candy. First prize went to the Operating Room, second prize to Medical Records, third prize to Medical Education-Cardiac Clinic Department and fourth to Central Supply. The party ended with the singing of Christmas carols and a thank you by Triulzi on behalf of the Medical Staff and Board of Trustees to all the employees for their dedication and service to the hospital.

Dr. Dutto Re-elected To AAGP Membership

KANSAS CITY, MO. Bartholomew J. Dutton, M.D. of Kingston, has been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors. Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education. The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., has been instrumental in the establishment of a new primary medical specialty in family practice. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's postgraduate education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

New Peace Appeal—Pope's Yule Theme

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI set the theme of peace for one of the quietest Christmases of his reign. The Roman Catholic pontiff opened Christmas week activities Sunday with a new appeal for peace on Earth and indirectly mentioned the recent uprisings in Poland and Spain. The Pope warned that "new and interminable local wars" once again threatened peace and also condemned the arms race, racism and oppression as menaces to peace. The Pope warned that "new and interminable local wars" once again threatened peace and also condemned the arms race, racism and oppression as menaces to peace. The Pope said "certain events have become the object of our passionate interest in world opinion in countries far from balcony."

No U.S. Dien Bien Phu

If North Vietnam is massing troops across the demilitarized zone for a spring offensive, in violation of the "understanding" with the Johnson administration, then it would threaten the further departure of American troops. It might even create a U.S. Dien Bien Phu—a situation where American troops would be caught defenseless as they tried to leave the country, as the French were caught in 1954.

As winding down the war proceeds for Americans, it is essential that we know the enemy's intent. Reconnaissance flights, finding the enemy and assaying his strength and his purpose, are vital to discover and frustrate another such bloody massacre. President Nixon is protecting the remaining American troops when he warns Hanoi that American reconnaissance planes will continue their sky spying and will be guarded by fighting planes to make sure they get back safely with their urgent information, and that any attacks will bring instant bombing retaliation.

As might have been expected, Hanoi responded with threats. It would upset her plans for a spring offensive if the American eyes in the sky found their troops massing. So Hanoi threatened to blast American planes, reconnaissance or fighter planes, if they crossed the border.

So the stage is set for possible resumption of the bombing war—or is it? There is no question that Nixon means what he told a nationwide audience he would do. He has no choice. He hopes he will not be forced to bomb military sites and communications by North Vietnamese infiltration that would threaten American forces as they were being withdrawn from South Vietnam. But does Hanoi mean what it says?

One reason to believe that Hanoi is speaking for home consumption only is that Nixon has not voiced a new policy. It has been American policy to spot enemy movement across the border from the air. If there is any escalation of the air strikes, it will be because Hanoi does not stick to its agreement to permit reconnaissance flights in exchange for the bombing halt.

Needless Loss of Life

Human mistakes combined with nature's fury to make the cyclone which roared out of the Bay of Bengal on Nov. 12-13 more disastrous than it need have been.

Henrik Beer, secretary of the League of Red Cross Societies, labels as a "tragedy" the fact that just 24 hours before the storm struck the coast of East Pakistan, a change was made in broadcast storm warning procedures. Previous to the November catastrophe, the intensity of impending storm was graded from a low of one to a high of 10. The system also called for interruption of radio broadcasts every half hour with warnings. These were received on transistor radios by local leaders.

However, the day before the disaster hit, the grading system was dropped and storm warnings were included only in regular news summaries. Even so, International Red Cross officials estimate that 70 per cent of the 300,000 killed could have been saved had they heeded the warnings that were given.

The dead toll in the big storm included 90 per cent of all Red Cross-trained disaster leaders, who remained in their villages to warn residents and perished with them.

The Affluent Society

David Lawrence Says People Haven't Been Told Whole Story of Viet War

WASHINGTON—What is one of the principal reasons for the growth of the anti-war movement on the campuses of the country?

Primarily, it is ignorance. Entirely apart from the likelihood of their being drafted, the students have been told by many faculty members and speakers that the United States is carrying on a war of aggression against a small nation.

Why hasn't the government of the United States revealed to the American people all of the story and declared again and again that it is actually engaged in a war with both Red China and the Soviet Union?

In a book just published, entitled, "Khrushchev Remembers," a chapter on Vietnam is most illuminating. Khrushchev, the former Soviet premier, is quoted as saying that North Vietnam—which has been dominated by Red China for the past year—is trying to establish better relations with the Soviet Union now only because the Soviets can supply the arms needed for the Vietnam war.

Khrushchev declares that he does not "think China will release Vietnam from its paws, and the pro-Chinese forces will remain powerful in Vietnam. They will do all they can to make Vietnam eat out of China's hand." He says:

"Our assistance has been decisive because, without material aid from the Soviet Union, it would have been impossible for Vietnam to survive under the conditions of modern warfare and to resist as rich and powerful an aggressor as the United States."

"In order to receive adequate arms and equipment, Vietnam has had no choice but to rely on the Soviet Union. In order to achieve victory, they must have the appropriate arms, and these arms they can obtain only from the Soviet Union. China can't give Vietnam what it needs today."

Further on, Khrushchev says "There is more at stake in this war than just the future of the Vietnamese people." He adds:

"The Vietnamese are shedding their blood and laying down their lives for the sake of the world Communist movement."

Why, it may be asked, have not these facts about the participation of Red China and the Soviet Union in the Vietnam war been made clear by the United States government, which has plenty of intelligence sources to confirm them?

Why hasn't a campaign been carried on in the publicity channels of the world, both at home and abroad, to let people everywhere know that the Vietnam war would long ago have been ended except for the action of Red China and the Soviet Union? Why has the United States had to bear the brunt of the blame?

Why have United States senators and representatives been allowed to convey the impression that America is engaged in a war of intervention in Southeast Asia based on selfishness or materialistic interest? Why hasn't the government of the United States itself told the people of the world that peace in Vietnam is being blocked by Red China and the Soviet Union and that the North Vietnamese are merely pawns in the hands of two communist nations?

The old man shuffled through the tide of shoppers, no longer able to lift his feet from the sidewalk, the head bent, and he saw himself in a Christmas window, and then he saw the fire engine. It was two feet long, a hook-and-ladder made in a bronze finish. Silently, he wept.

The boy was on his hands and knees. He pulled the hook-and-ladder off the edge of the rug and he liked the way the wheels bumped when they moved on the dirty white fringe. When they reached the hardwood floor, they made a small roaring sound. It was a real fire truck, on its way to a real fire, skidding the turns on the varnish, and wending its way around the legs of the dining room table.

He heard the bell ring. His mother pressed the downstairs buzzer. Whoever it was, it always took time to reach the third floor. He could hear the last few footsteps. The knock on the door was vigorous. His mother opened it and said: "Oh! Aunt Jenny!" From under the table, he could see his mother's feet and Grandmother Jenny's feet.

Grandmother wore high-top black shoes. Her skirt was gathered in creases in the back as though there wasn't enough of her. But Lennie knew there was enough of her. He wished he could stay under the table. He wished she would go home. He was afraid of the way she looked at him.

"Come out, Lennie," his mother said happily. "Kiss Aunt Jenny." Silently, he told the fire truck to go to the fire without him and to please put it out and don't let anybody get burned. He came out and stood. He had straight black hair glistening over his forehead. The skin was dark and pale. The eyes were slitted, almost oriental. He was eight, but he was aware that nobody on the block liked the way he looked.

"Well, there," Aunt Jenny said, looking down from a height. She had grayish black hair turned up and rolled all around the top of her head. The face was fat with wrinkles and the only thing that moved was the eyes. She wore a black shirred blouse tucked into the black skirt. On one side her glasses hung. He remembered that she put these on by pinching her nose. On the other side was a gold watch, hanging on a gold pin.

She had a great big chest. "What's he doing home from school?" she said. He knew that she worked as a supervisor in an orphanage, and his father used to say: "If you're not good we're going to send you to the home with Aunt Jenny. They have razor strops thick as this."

His mother said he didn't feel well. "Pale," said Grandmother Jenny, sitting. His mother said shyly: "He has a little fever." "How old is he now?" "Eight past." "Maybe he touches himself." She looked down harriedly. "Stand up straight," she commanded. "Do you touch yourself?"

He didn't know what it meant, but he moved his hands away from his sides. "No ma'am," he said. "Keep your head up," she said. "You're doing something. Do you do anything naughty?" He shook his head. "Speak up like a man," she said. "No ma'am," he said.

She had given him the fire engine for Christmas. It was the most beautiful hook-and-ladder he ever saw. Aunt Jenny left him standing with his hands at an angle. She dig into her bag and brought out a bolt of plaid cloth. "This is the makings of a dress for Adele," she said. "May I have a cup of tea?" His mother hurried into the kitchen as though she too was afraid of her aunt.

"Where does John go at night?" Aunt Jenny said. "I'd watch him if I were you. I always saw marriage fails when the wife is not on the trail. Women nowadays are slob, is what I think. That's why I never got married. No man is good enough." His mother said "Yes" from the kitchen.

"Watch him," Grandmother Jenny said. "Follow him. The children can take care of themselves. You can't tell me he's playing cards with men." She looked at Lennie venomously. "Little pitchers have big ears. Go out on the porch and play." He went into the bedroom and put on a sweater and took his big fire engine and walked out silently. His mother was afraid that it was too cold out there, but she only showed pity in her eyes. She said nothing.

He played with his fire engine along the rail of the tiny porch. It was cold. His teeth chattered and his lower lip trembled. It took a long time that day for Grandmother Jenny to tell Mom how bad everybody was. When his mother brought him back into the warmth of the kitchen, she crouched, hugged him, and her cheek was wet.

"Where's your fire engine?" she said suddenly. He shrugged. "It fell down in the back yard and broke."

The old man's knees knocked together as he stood at the window looking at the fire engine. He just wished he knew who he was crying for...

Jack Anderson Says Pentagon Brass Sings, Jokes As It Fires Army Troublemakers

WASHINGTON—At a hush-hush Pentagon personnel meeting, brass hats and civilian bigwigs merrily sang "Hill Hi! Hee!" in the Field Artillery and told bathroom jokes the other day as they decided whom to fire at Christmas-time.

The callousness of the conferees, as they weighed the fate of lower-level employees, is exposed in transcripts in our possession.

Top aides of Pentagon communications czar John Broger gathered furtively in a backroom to pare the payroll. Gleeefully, they struck names off the rosters of the Defense Department's radio-TV stations, newspapers and other publications around the world.

In flagrant disregard of Civil Service rules, Broger's hatchetmen fired critics and "troublemakers," retained favorites and yes-men. There was high hilarity, for example, at the removal of newsman-sergeant Hugh Morgan from his Saigon post. Allegedly, he had been sarcastic about Vice President Spiro Agnew.

"They called up and said get rid of that guy," chortled one bigwig. Not only had Morgan failed to show the proper respect for Agnew, it developed, but he sometimes wore sandals. A Broger aide laughed about how he had embarrassed Morgan in Washington, Morgan's new post, by staring at his sandals.

The firing were supposed to be based up on the new budget figures. But George Mich, administrator of the Defense Department's information network confided to the other conferees that the figures were "so garbled up and they are so messed up, that Mr. Broger would be in jail the first month he relied on those reports."

Numbers Game
Blurted another official: "I told (Broger) we were just playing a numbers game in any case and he said, 'You're right,' and walked away." The conferees laughed at the idea of taking away employees' paychecks as part of a "numbers game."

After a joke about where the best "johns" are located around the world, the conferees decided there were "too many civilian personnel at the (radio-TV) stations." Happily, they began to eliminate those who oppose Broger's censorship policies.

After the most notorious had been fired, the conferees were stymied over whom to get rid of next. One official produced a list, explaining jovially: "Somebody threw a dart at the wall and said that's it."

"If you want to rejuvenate the organization," suggested a chortling old-timer, "get rid of all us old f--s." The idea that the conferees would eliminate themselves was so preposterous it caused renewed hilarity.

An amused official whistled cheerily, then broke out into song: "Then it's Hill Hi! Hee! in the Field Artillery..."

But Broger's factotum at the meeting, special assistant Henry Valentino, didn't sing along. He began to worry that their purge list might leak out.

"I suggest that all of you keep this in an inaccessible place," he said soberly. "I made a phone call this morning and someone else was on the line. When I hung up the phone, the light stayed on."

"Well, I think we have to be careful we don't leave this in our in-boxes," agreed another official. "I keep my desk locked all the time."

Their fears turned out to be justified. The transcripts of their secret deliberations were slipped to us.

Washington Expose

Parking Pressure—The Federal Aviation Administration is trying to blackmail airports into providing preferential parking places for its employees who work at the crowded facilities. The FAA's strategy is to make its approval of airport improvements and federal grants contingent upon the parking situation. The scheme is set forth in an internal memo from Deputy FAA Administrator K. M. Smith to regional officials around the country. "No additional projects will be approved nor construction of air navigation or air traffic control facilities begun at such airports until adequate parking arrangements are made," the memo says. So the public will have to wait for better air safety until the bureaucrats have more convenient places to park.

Corvair Aid—We recently reported that carbon monoxide leakage may have made gas chambers of as many as a million Corvairs. Transportation Secretary John Volpe ordered the Highway Safety Bureau to investigate. Meanwhile, we have heard from hundreds of owners asking how to prevent the deadly gas from leaking into their Corvairs. The carbon monoxide filters through the heating system. The best protection is to arrange an emission test run. Until the system has been tested, experts advise us that it's safer to drive with the window open when the heater is on. Many owners have told us they wrote to General Motors about our disclosures. Incredibly, GM has informed them that they, not the manufacturer, are to blame for their gas fume problems. As with any machinery, a Corvair requires owner maintenance to keep it in its design condition. GM's customer service representative, T. J. Jarvis, has explained blissfully to Corvair customers.

Furious Fraser—Rep. Don Fraser, the usually mild-mannered Democrat from Minnesota, is furious with the staff of the House District Committee for keeping the members in the dark about its activities. The latest incident involves staffer Paul Little who prepared a report on a Washington housing project, then gave it to the press without letting members of the subcommittee even see it. Enraged, Fraser called the subcommittee staff and demanded the report be brought to him by eight the next morning. By 11, it still had not appeared. Incidents like the one involving Fraser are common on the committee, whose chairman, John McMillan of South Carolina, is considered the most tyrannical of all the House committee barons. Because of his arbitrary behavior, a group of House liberals will try to have him kicked out of his job when Congress convenes.

Christmas a Controversy—Some World Bank employees have urged their boss, Robert McNamara, to forego the annual Christmas party so that $30,000 in entertainment and similar funds could be contributed to Pakistan relief. But other employees, more interested in their own Christmas cheer, grumbled that they want the party anyway. McNamara referred the decision to the bank's council, which voted for Pakistan relief.

The Spirit of Christmas God's Gift to Blue Ridge

By TOM TIEDE

ETLAND, Va. — (NEA) — When one of Archie Dodson's children got sick recently he didn't call a doctor. He has no phone. Anyway, there is no doctor in this section of the Blue Ridge Mountains. And even if there were he would not, in Dodson's opinion, "come a way out heah to see an ol' hillbilly family."

So he called John Lamb. Who is John Lamb?

"Next to Jesus he's the greatest friend us mountain people got."

John Lamb came. He looked at the sick child and immediately took her to the nearest hospital where she was given emergency treatment for spinal meningitis. Physicians agreed if there had been any more delay the child would have died.

Understandably, the Archie Dodson family credits John Lamb with saving the baby's life. Equally understandable, many people in this depressing, detached hill country credit the man with being God's gift. For nearly a quarter of a century "Mr. John," as he's known through three counties, has been waging a personal war on poverty here, using the impoverished as soldiers in their own defense.

It began in 1947 when Lamb, a dairyman from Washington, D. C., first visited the Blue Ridge. It was snowing that time. And he stopped to watch and weep as sometime shoeless, sometime coatless, children stood shivering at a school bus stop. That day he raced back to his Washington office, gathered up all the warm clothes he could find, and returned immediately to distribute his booty to astonished residents.

He has been returning ever since.

Now nearly 80 years old, Mr. John has set up one of the most incredible individual mercy missions in the nation. He wheedles and begs merchandise out of capital city citizens. He loads it on a truck which, through a series of intermediate steps, he acquired by selling newspaper subscriptions. And, using his own pension money for expenses thereon, he moves like an all-weather Santa, giving out what has amounted to hundreds of tons of desperately needed goods. In 23 years, he estimates, he has made enough trips from Washington to the Blue Ridge to cover 700,000 miles (to the moon and back plus eight trips around the world) and has set up regular and all-encompassing assistance for at least 600 mountain families.

And he shows no signs of slowing down. On the contrary, he says, "I got a plan, by Jack, that'll make the New Deal look like nothing. I'm gonna build the mountain people a meeting place. I mean a big one. Thirty thousand dollars. I'm gonna build it right in here among them. So they'll have a place to come when they're sick. So they'll have a dentist first time in their lives. I mean it, by Jack. I'm gonna build one right now, then another, ..."

It would be easy to dismiss Mr. John's insistence. After all he's old, unorganized and has tried and failed to get state or federal funding. Virginia welfare authorities call him "a meddler." Neighbors who suffer the piles of donations that accumulate daily in his yard call him "a dreamer." But the mountain families of Virginia's Rappahannock, Page and Madison counties call him God's gift.

The Archie Dodson family is a good illustration of the point. There are 13 of them. When Lamb found the family it was little more than savage. Nobody used toilet paper, the children were sick with undernourishment, they had one set of clothes apiece, and were, as Mrs. Dodson admits, "on the verge of dying, one by one."

Then came Lamb. He moved the family out of a stick house into a pair of sturdy, clean trailers. He took the children to a dentist (88 cavities) and several doctors. He introduced Archie Dodson to manual labor. ("We found out he was darn good with his hands.") He taught the mother how to can in preparation for winter. He put clothes on their backs, food in their stomachs and hope in their hearts.

But not a bit of it has ever been easy, John Lamb says. "Mountain people are like animals. Their sanitation is by the squat method in creeks. Brothers and sisters have babies all the time. And, by Jack, are they ever suspicious of outsiders! But I've found that patience pays off. If you keep after them, teach them to help themselves, show them right from wrong, they learn like anybody else."

And so Mr. John will remain patient. God's gift to the mountains. "Until I either die or go broke. And I can't do either right now. You know that little Dodson girl who had spinal meningitis—well, I got to keep a date with her every month. We just go off by ourselves, down in the hollow, and eat gumdrops."

Timely Quotes

The magnitude of your copious assertion is far too sagacious for my diminutive comprehension.

Under the deceptive guise of freedom and the belief that citizens must be armed to resist tyranny, the American people tolerate and abet assault, robbery, murder and street crime at gunpoint. If this is freedom in its finest form, it is also freedom in its final hour.

—New York City Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy.

I deal with the realities that are my responsibility or those that I can affect . . . and that's plenty for me.

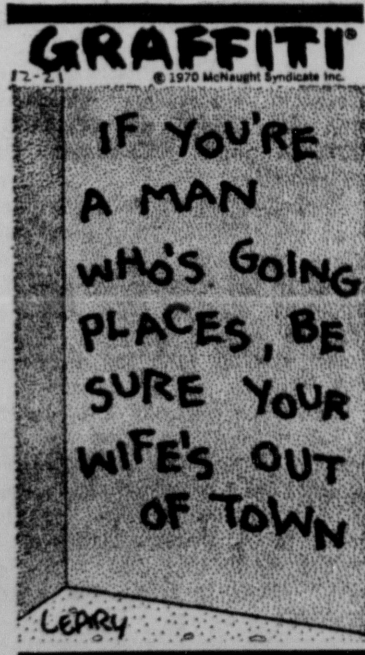

—Moshe Dayan, defense minister of Israel.

Socialist Labor Party

in the SUNY New Paltz Library.

How anybody can defend capitalism in this day and age is beyond me.

Even with the war in Vietnam, unemployment is increasing. If capitalism cannot make it with war, it cannot make it when there is so-called peace.
If there is to be a future, if the perilous arms race is to be halted and nuclear war averted, the capitalist cause of war must be eliminated.

The working class—all the people who perform the useful functions of society and who have no property interests to blind their judgment—should unite politically under the banner of the Socialist Labor Party to outlaw private ownership of the tools of production at the ballot box.

And it requires also that the workers consolidate their economic power in one integral Socialist Industrial Union to back up their Socialist ballot and take and hold the industries.

I would like Mr. Mott and Mr. Garibaldi explain to me how they can justify a system of society wherein there is so much poverty in the midst of plenty, where millions of people young and old cannot get jobs, where welfare rolls keep on increasing, etc.

The Socialist Labor Party has seen many political parties who received more votes than the SLP has ever received, come and go.

The Socialist Labor Party is here today because it never compromised its Socialist principles, never lost sight of its revolutionary goal, and never trimmed its revolutionary sails in order to be popular.

The SLP is way ahead of all other movements on the social scene today.

In his letter Richard Mott says: "No politician is reacting to the SLP. They don't even know SLP exists."

Mr. Mott is kidding himself.
The same goes for James Garibaldi.

Right here in New York State the election law was rigged to discourage the Socialist Labor Party and others from having their candidates on the ballot.

When the Socialist Labor Party with the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union sued and the case was brought to the U.S. Supreme Court—who objected to easing the restrictive New York Election Law?
No less a man than Nelson Rockefeller through his Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz!

In the 1969 mayoralty election in New York City, why did that liberal champion of the rights of minorities, John Lindsay, succeed in his opportunistic role of knocking the SLP candidates off the ballot?

Back in the 1940's the Socialist Labor Party nominee for Governor of Ohio received a substantial number of votes. The major party politicians got scared and passed legislation making it virtually impossible for the SLP to appear on the ballot.

It was not until the recent election this year that SLP candidates were able to appear on the Ohio ballot. As of this writing, no figures are available as to the total number of votes received by the SLP in Ohio.
However, the number of inquiries received by the SLP National Headquarters show a large increase.

In contrast to Mr. Mott and James Garibaldi, more and more young people are turning to the Socialist Labor Party.

I suggest to Mr. Mott that he avail himself of the opportunity to read the "WEEKLY PEOP-LE," official organ of the Socialist Labor Party, which is fingers painstakingly cut out lopsided, colorful cards and present them to their parents and teachers with the pride of accomplishment I believe only a child can feel.

The thoughtful neighbor who cares enough for a shut-in down the road to prepare a hot meal for him, people who unstintingly give of their time to help children and invalids, the handicapped themselves, who, in spite of their affliction, manage to bring joy to people with their talents, the concerned persons who care for helpless, unwanted animals, all practice the true spirit of Christmas.

Money is not a dirty word, neither is it the yardstick by which we measure all our virtues. Like fire, it can spread warmth or misery, depending on how it is used.

The cardboard, paste, scissors, food, clothing, toys, transportation to visit the sick and lonely, all cost money, but in the hands of people who keep Christ in Christmas can help make our holiday a happy one.
Merry Christmas, with God's blessing.

Wendy Is Thankful

Editor, The Freeman:
This being the time of the year for giving love toward all and each other . . .

Wendy Brown and family would like to thank all the people in the Mid-Hudson Valley and surrounding areas who have taken the time to show their concern and heartfelt ways towards Wendy's return to health.

Wendy, awaiting a suitable donor for a kidney transplant, travels back and forth to New York City hospitals two and three times a week for kidney machine treatments and medical treatments. Since her operation for the removal of her diseased kidneys and infected appendix in August, Wendy has been feeling much better.

All the letters, cards, money contributions, blood donors and possible kidney donors have been a great encouragement to Wendy. You keep hearing these days that no one cares and teenagers do nothing but cause trouble. I only wish all the people could see how much people really do care. Teenagers, small children, and people of all ages have helped in so many ways.
The concern they have shown for Wendy has really been astounding.

Of all the gifts in life we've received, we will never forget this greatest gift of all — the caring for another human being.
Just when we began to think we were all alone in the world, strangers stepped in and lent a helping hand.

Wendy has been through a great ordeal for such a young one, and still has a rough road before her. However, with all the prayers and kindness of so many, plus the great medical profession from the N. Y. hospitals behind her, she can't help but go on. You have all made a difference.

Smallest Living Human

Editor, The Freeman:
The following letter appeared in the newspaper "People and Events," Albany, N. Y., on March 10, 1970 by Dr. Paul E.
Rockwell, Director of Anesthesiology, Leonard Hospital, Troy, N. Y. I would like to share it with the readers of The Freeman:

Eleven years ago while giving an anesthetic for ruptured ectopic pregnancy (at two months gestation) I was handed what I believe was the smallest living human being ever seen. The embryo was intact and transparent. Within the sac was a tiny (approx. 1 cm.) human male swimming extremely vigorously in the amniotic fluid, while attached to the wall by the umbilical cord. This tiny human was perfectly developed, with long, tapering fingers, feet and toes. It was almost transparent, as regards the skin, and the delicate arteries and veins were prominent to the ends of the fingers.

The baby was extremely alive, and swam about the sac approximately one time per second, with a natural swimmer's stroke. This tiny human did not look at all like the photos and drawings and models of "embryos" which I have seen, nor did it look like the few embryos I have been able to observe since then, obviously because this one was alive!

The swimming human was observed by the head surgery nurse and our children, who were called out of school to observe such a unique phenomenon. When the sac was opened, the tiny human immediately lost its life and took on the appearance of what is accepted as the appearance of an embryo at this age (blunt extremities, etc.).
Six months later, at a lecture in embryology at Harvard University, I had occasion to ask the 150 some physicians whether any had witnessed such a phenomenon. All were amazed and none had seen nor heard of such an event.

It is my opinion that if the lawmakers and people realized that very vigorous life is present, it is possible that abortion would be found much more objectionable than euthanasia.

I am not a religious person, but the observation impressed me of the witnesses that the "embryo is viable" much earlier than the proponents of liberalized abortion laws, would believe possible, and would, if known, affect the legality of any abortion under the bill proposed by the State of Hawaii (i.e. the bill states that the fetus must be "viable" or "capable of living").

Yours very truly,
(Mrs.) ROSE M. APREA

Nixon's Popularity Slips To Lowest Point to Date

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N. J. — President Nixon's popularity rating has slipped to 52 per cent approval—the lowest point recorded to date.

In the previous survey, conducted in mid-November, the President's approval rating was five points higher. His previous low was 53 per cent approval, recorded last March at the height of the nationwide postal crisis.

The President's popularity losses have occurred about equally among most population groups. He has lost some ground in the East, Midwest and Far West, but is maintaining his same level of popularity in the South.

Economic Trends Economic trends that were working against the Republicans at the time of the congressional elections have continued and could be an important factor in the President's decline in popularity.

Unemployment reached 5.8 per cent in November—the highest monthly level since 1963. It is estimated that approximately 4,600,000 Americans are out of work. At the same time the steady rise in consumer prices has not abated. Least hard hit in terms of unemployment has been the South.

This question was asked in the survey:

Do you approve or disapprove of the way Nixon is handling his job as President?

Following are the results of the latest survey compared with those from the November survey:

	Dec.	Nov.
Approve	52	57
Disapprove	34	30
No opinion	14	13
	100%	100%

The latest findings are based on in-person interviews with 1, 379 adults in more than 300 scientifically - selected sampling points. Interviewing was conducted by trained Gallup field workers during the period December 5-6.

Ike's Rating Was Similar Interesting parallels can be found between Nixon's popularity rating today and that recorded for President Eisenhower in 1958, at a time when the nation was suffering from a serious business recession.

The Most Exciting Headache News In Years!

Doctors' Tests In Treating Nervous Tension Headaches Now Made Public

Non-Narcotic Tablet (that needs no prescription) Proves Just As Effective As The Expensive, Leading Pain-Relief Prescription Of Doctors.

If you're one of the many who get tense, nervous headaches, these latest tests by doctors should be of the greatest importance.

In recent medical tests doctors proved a famous tablet that needs no prescription gives the same complete headache relief as the expensive, leading prescription of doctors.

These doctors' tests proved, beyond a doubt, that Anacin is just as effective to relieve tension headaches, yet Anacin needs no prescription and is far more economical.

With Anacin, headache pain and its nervous tension vanish in minutes. Despite its strength, Anacin is not narcotic. You can take it without getting dizzy or an upset stomach.

Next time take powerful, fast-acting Anacin*. Anacin Tablets give the same complete headache pain relief as the leading prescription product for which doctors wrote 21 million prescriptions last year.

Bronx Woman Summoned After Dutchess Crash

TOWN OF CLINTON
A 57-year-old Bronx woman was cited for unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle by Rhinebeck State Police after her car collided with another vehicle at the intersection of Hibernia Road and the Taconic State Parkway in this Dutchess County township.

Kathryn Dunn of 2440 Sedgewick Avenue is scheduled for a later court appearance before Town of Clinton Justice William Tompkins. She was released in her own recognizance.

Mrs. Dunn sustained a fractured rib as a result of the crash. Her husband, Dominick Dunn, suffered a fractured and lacerated nose. Both were treated at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The accident occurred at about 5 p.m. Sunday when an auto operated by Edna Green, 44, of Front Street, Millbrook, was traveling west on Hibernia Road and crossing the Taconic State Parkway when her auto was in collision with the Dunn car. Mrs. Green was not injured in the crash, said state police.

Kerhonkson Man Faces Charge

ELLENVILLE
Henry Dehling, 40, of the Echo Hotel, Kerhonkson was arrested Sunday on a charge of third degree burglary involving a break-in at a summer bungalow on Briggs Highway in the Town of Wawarsing Friday, according to Ellenville troopers. The man was arrested at the hotel following an investigation by police authorities. Dehling was arraigned before Town of Wawarsing Justice Frank Spada and then committed to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $1,500, bail for a court appearance Dec. 28. The bungalow was owned by a Long Island family, not identified by police.

... 'Twas 3 DAYS BEFORE CHRISTMAS and all through the store, merchandise was stacked, there was hub-bub and uproar,

the slacks were all hung,
by the sport coats with care, in the hopes that the right color, would please the "old bear,"
and Al in his Northweave, and Jack in his "flares", are busy selling their excellent wares.
The noise of the customers filling the store, draw many new shoppers thru the door,
While Bernie is selling the Puritan sweater, Alex is opening a golfers letter,
and in the back amid all the wrapping and string, Helen is busy "doing her thing" upstairs in the Boys wear where selections are great,
you can still choose his gift, it's not too late.
But soon the BIG DAY will arrive and the smiles, will tell you that they're pleased with all the new styles,
And we'll be happy that we helped you select,
the fabric and color that proved so correct,
so stop in tonight, don't wait 'til tomorrow, we'd hate to have anyone filled with sorrow.
and last but not least we're happy to say,
we wish you and yours a most Happy Christmas Day!

Sullivan Extraditing Two From Florida

MONTICELLO — One of the most intensive arson investigations ever conducted in Sullivan County has led to the extradition of two brothers, Thomas Leigh, 20 of Monticello and Patrick, 20 of Liberty, from Florida to Sullivan County.

According to State Police and District Attorney Louis B. Scheinman of Sullivan County, the two men, arrested on a warrant charging third degree arson, had refused to waive extradition.

They were arrested Wednesday on a warrant signed earlier this month by Thompson Magistrate Seymour A. Kesten of Monticello.

It is reported that the matter will take several days because it must be presented to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and then forwarded to the governor of Florida.

Ferndale State Police also reported today that two more warrants have been forwarded to the governor of Florida.

Ferndale State Police also reported today that two more warrants have been forwarded to Florida, one charging arson, second degree and the other, burglary, third degree.

The two brothers have been named as suspects in connection with about 40 suspicious fires in Sullivan County during recent months. The men were known in the Monticello area for their skill in electronics.

The investigation, which was begun just after Labor Day, was described as one of the most intensive ever conducted in the area, according to senior BCI investigator Michael Lisman of the Ferndale Barracks.

State Police report they have already presented some evidence before the Sullivan County grand jury and Scheinman said Friday that the first warrant was issued on one particular fire which took place at the unused old St. Nicholas Foundation on Old Liberty Road, outside Monticello.

He also said that further evidence will be presented the grand jury and that he expects indictments on numerous charges of arson will follow.

Two Arrests In Ellenville, Long Check

ELLENVILLE — A larceny investigation begun by Kingston State Police Oct. 19 culminated in the arrest Sunday night of two teenagers by Ellenville State Police.

Brian Joseph Sweeney, 19, of Westbury and Allen Harold Hudson, 18, of New York City were arrested in Kerhonkson and charged with petit larceny. They were charged with stealing stereo tape cartridges from a car parked in Ellenville in mid-October.

The two were arraigned before Town of Rochester Justice Harold Lipton on the petit larceny charge. They both pleaded guilty and were fined $50 and released.

Police noted that most of the stolen tapes, valued at about $200 were recovered at the time of the arrest.

Restore Service In Saugerties TV Equipment

SAUGERTIES — An interruption in the cable television service in Saugerties Sunday afternoon was due to a power failure in one piece of equipment according to officials of Vidi-Comm Corp.

Service was restored to the CATV system in about an hour.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market opened mixed on moderate turnover today.

Shortly after the opening, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 0.27 at 822.50. Of the 360 issues on the tape, advances were leading declines, 136 to 107.

In the steel group, Bethlehem and Armco were up 1/4 apiece at 20 3/4 and 19 1/4, respectively. Jones & Laughlin fell 1/4 to 8 3/4.

West Huley Man Pays $50 Fine For Shoplifting

KINGSTON — A 24-year-old West Huley man paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty to a charge of petit larceny after his arrest Friday night by Kingston State Police on a complaint issued by Clark Johnson, a security guard at Caldor's in the Town of Ulster.

James Murphy of Box 405, Spillway Road was detained by Johnson after he was reportedly caught shoplifting at the store. He was arraigned before Town of Saugerties Justice Calvin Cody and released after payment of the fine.

Farm Credit Administration Seeking Congress Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move is under way by one of the nation's major leading institutions to seek reforms in Congress next year to improve and increase credit service to the nation's farmers.

Involved is the Farm Credit System, a cooperative farmer-owned network of lending agencies, including federal land banks, production credit associations and banks for cooperatives.

E. A. Jaenke, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, says legislative proposals will be developed for submission to Congress in 1971. These, he said, grew out of recommendations made last spring by a Commission on Agricultural Credit.

The legislative proposals will include:

—Greater flexibility in federal land bank mortgage lending to farmers through removal of restrictions limiting loans to 65 per cent of a farm's appraised value.

—Authority for production credit associations to finance farm-related businesses which directly furnish services ordinarily part of their farming operations. Mainly, these would be custom operators—harvesters, for example—on whose services farmers rely.

—Authority for federal land banks, and in some cases the PCAs, to make real estate loans on rural homes and for improvements.

—Broader eligibility requirements to enable banks for cooperatives to finance a wider segment of rural co-ops.

The system's economists say farmers are expected to need at least $110 billion to $120 billion annual credit by 1980, or more than double today's rate of about $55 billion a year.

Cooperative lending through the Farm Credit System last fiscal year totaled $14.4 billion in loans outstanding. By next June 30 about $15 billion in business is expected.

The groups making up the Farm Credit System originally were financed by the federal government but this has been phased out. The banks and associations now are completely owned by farmers and their cooperatives.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department will issue Wednesday a report on the acreage of winter wheat and rye that farmers planted for harvest in 1971.

The report will be based on field conditions as of Dec. 1 and will include rough indications of next year's production of winter wheat and the condition of the rye crop.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says holiday shoppers may find U.S. grade standards useful in choosing a Christmas tree.

The standards are not mandatory and are used mostly by the Consumer and Marketing Service, the requirements set by the various grades can help buyers judge tree quality.

Key points used to set standards and features to look for are:

—Freshness—Needles should be pliable and firmly attached to the branches.

Cleanliness—Trees should be at least moderately free of moss, lichens, vines and other foreign matter.

Condition—They should be fresh and have a natural appearance for particular species and should be well-trimmed, free of all barren branches below the first whorl and cleanly cut at the base.

Mendel Rivers Suffers Setback

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., suffered a "sudden cessation of heart action" at University Hospital but was revived by a physician, a hospital spokesman said today.

Rivers, 65-year-old chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, underwent surgery Dec. 11 to replace a faulty heart valve with a plastic one. He had spent a restful weekend and Sunday night the hospital reported it would stop issuing daily reports on his condition "because his recovery process has followed a consistently normal pattern for several days."

But a short time after the statement was issued, the spokesman said, Rivers' heart stopped beating.

"Fortunately," the spokesman said, "a resident physician was just a few feet away and resuscitative measures were begun promptly.

"These were effective in restoring a normal heart action. All indications at present are that brain and heart action are again normal."

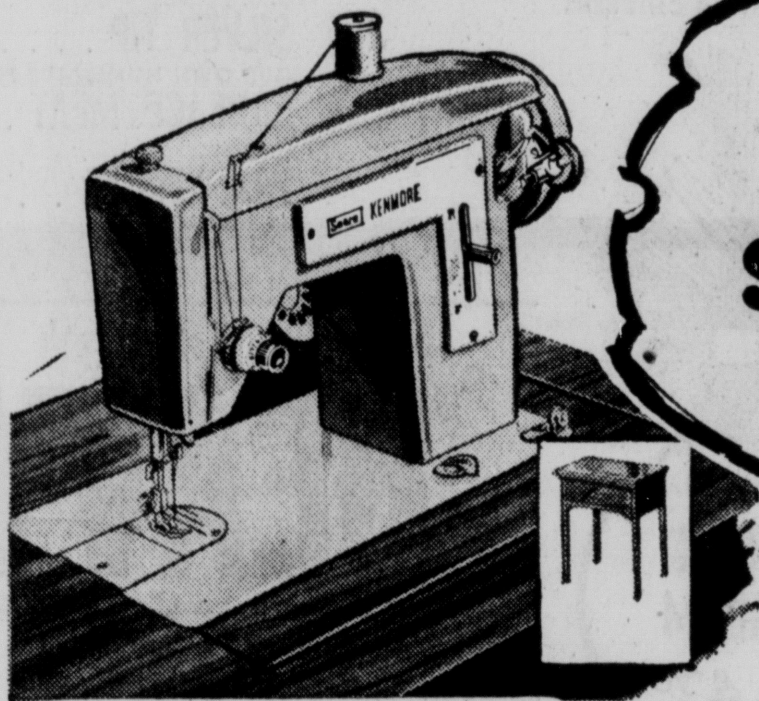

"However, this event is a serious one and its occurrence renders the patient seriously ill."

LE MANS, France (UPI) — In a temperature of 34 degrees Fahrenheit about 20 persons whose ages ranged from 14 to 83 marked their annual tradition by diving into the waters of the River Deme Sunday. The bathers were all members of the "frigodemies" club, founded 11 years ago by Fernand Pesson, mayor of nearby Beaumont sur Deme.

Local Airmen Complete Training

SAN ANTONIO, TEX. — Three local Airmen have completed schooling at the Air Force Training Center here, according to the latest report from the Air Force Home Town News Center at Tinker AFB in Oklahoma.

Airman Roy J. Reynaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valdo Reynaud of Esopus Avenue, Ulster Park, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Keesler AFB, Miss., for training in communications electronics systems.

Airman Reynaud is a 1970 graduate of Kingston High School.

Airman Carl E. Craft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin R. Craft of Highmount, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training as a medical helper.

Airman Carl E. Craft is a 1968 graduate of Fleischmanns High School, Kingston, N. Y., for and attended Ulster Community College, Stone Ridge.

Airman Tartis F. Lewis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tartis F. Kingston High School and received an A.A. degree in 1970 Street, Kingston, has completed from State University of New York at Cobleskill.

ROY J. REYNAUD

VIETNAM — Staff Sergeant David E. Liebergot, son of Mrs. Josephine Youmans of 7 Kalina Drive, Saugerties, is a communications analysis specialist with the unit responsible for the U. S. Air Force's second consecutive win in annual Travis Trophy competition.

It is the first time any of the three competing services has won the National Security Agency award a second successive year. Nearly 200 units from three military services competed for the honor.

The winning unit—the 6994th Security Squadron, headquartered at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam — was selected to receive the trophy for its "... highly significant contributions during 1969 toward the fulfillment of both national and tactical cryptological objectives."

Organized at Tan Son Nhut in 1966, the squadron is composed of approximately 650 men at several bases in Southeast Asia.

Before Sergeant Liebergot began his Southeast Asia tour of duty with the winning squadron, he served at Ft. George Meade, Md. The sergeant, a 1963 graduate of Saugerties High School, attended the University of Maryland European Division. His wife is the former Sandra Davidson from England.

SAUGERTIES WOODSTOCK

Teens to Help Maintain Rink For Woodstock

WOODSTOCK every Saturday evening from 7 to 11 and Sundays from 1 to 6 p.m. It has been operating for over a year now. Other weekly activities such as skiing and basketball are also planned. In 1971, the town budget provides $1,500 for operation of the center. Prior to this, the teenagers ran their own fund raising projects with the help of some area citizens and merchants. An advisory group, the Woodstock Youth Council, assists in operating the center and directing activities of the teenagers. The Council is made up of eight members, five adults and three teenagers. The teenagers are Carol Gertsema, Peter Cantine, and Britt St. John. Adults serving on the council are Richard Mellert, Ralph Perry, Ted Gertsema, William Waterous, and Jane Allen.

Chairman Richard Mellert says that although all activities are supervised by adults, it is the teenagers who plan and carry them out. Mellert pointed out that more adults are needed to help at the center. He also encouraged all Woodstock teenagers to join in the Youth Center fun.

The teenagers currently are using the Town Hall as a center for their activities. There they play pool, ping pong, and hold dances. The center is open

LARRY THORNTON

Thornton Heads Saugerties Dems

SAUGERTIES
Larry Thornton was reelected president of Saugerties Democratic Club at a recent meeting at Harp's Inn. Maurice Hinchey Sr. was reelected to serve again at first vice president.

Newly elected officers are Paul Brazier, second vice president; Peter Iacovazzi, treasurer; Lynn Van Kleek, secretary and Mary Beckert, historian. Robert Gardner and David

Walsh were appointed to the President's Executive Council. After welcoming his new officers, the president called on each member of his present staff and spoke directly to them to publicly show his gratitude for making his position a most worthwhile endeavor.

Walter Nichols, who did not seek reelection, was applauded for his years of dedicated service. Dorothy Strong who resigned after three years of service as the club's secretary was presented with a pin. Preparations for the Senior Citizens party sponsored by the club was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Strong. This Christmas party was held at the Dutch Arms Chapel, John Street, Friday, Dec. 18 and proved to be a delightful experience, Mrs. Strong said.

In keeping with the social aspects of the club, Iacovazzi, chairman of the spring dinner-dance to be held at the Flamingo, April 21, will present his complete plans at the January 26th meeting at Cedar Grove Inn, Rte. 32.

At all forthcoming meetings it is hoped there will be a guest speaker. All interested Democrats are urged to become part of this group. Meeting nights are usually the last Tuesday of the month. The press and radio will keep the public informed of location and date.

Brass choir includes Alan Elson, William Geick, Timothy Sheehan, Mark Trnka, Brian Wilson and Joseph Weglarz.

The choir of 65 voices, under the direction of Kenneth Baumgartner, will offer the ever popular "Twas the Night Before Christmas, While By My Sheep, and The Snow Lay on the Ground.

Mrs. George Fetty and Mrs. Michael Sheehan and their committee will be in charge of refreshments at the conclusion of the concert.

A holiday theme will prevail throughout the evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Reformed Church Fete

SAUGERTIES
Women's Guild of Christian Service of Saugerties Reformed Church held its December meeting and Christmas party in the chapel recently.

Covered dish supper was served to 27 members and guests at tables decorated with candles and centerpieces in keeping with the holiday season.

Mrs. Coy Henderson offered the invocation and Mrs. James Abbott presided and welcomed members and guests.

Meeting opened with singing of Christmas Carols. Mrs. Gordon Keeley read the Christmas Story. Miss Elinor Lente gave a reading, The Holy Lake.

The Installation Service will be held at January meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Welton, Mrs. Keeley, Miss Lente and Mrs. Robert Freiligh.

Police Report Break-in Try

KINGSTON
Kingston Police report an attempted break-in at Safford and Scudder Inc., Jewelers, 310 Wall Street, at 8:41 p.m. Sunday.

Police on patrol on Wall Street at the time were alerted to the break-in when a burglar alarm sounded and upon investigation they found the front door broken.

No entry to the building was gained, according to the detective division of the Kingston Police Department.

State Youth Representative Praises Program in City

JUVENILE AID DISCUSSION — Mrs. Fannie Lawson, field representative for the New York State Division for Youth, was in Kingston recently to discuss juvenile aid and recreation programs with local officials including (L) Andrew J.

Murphy, superintendent of recreation; Jack Houghtaling, deputy city treasurer and William Whalen, sergeant in charge of the Juvenile Aid Division of the Kingston Police Department. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

KINGSTON — Mrs. Fannie Lawson, field representative for the New York State Division for Youth recently discussed the Juvenile Aid and Recreation Programs sponsored by the Division for Youth with Andy Murphy III, superintendent of recreation, Jack Houghtaling, deputy city treasurer and William Whalen, in charge of Juvenile Aid Division of the Kingston Police Department.

She complimented the local individuals for their efforts in the programs which have proven successful. The Juvenile Aid Program is a relatively new program initiated by former Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan with the assistance of Murphy and former Chief of Police Robert Murphy. Mrs. Lawson also lauded Mayor Francis R. Koenig who was instrumental in increasing the staff of the Juvenile Division which now has Officer Joseph Kivlan in addition to Sgt. Whelan who has been with the Division since its inception.

In addition to visiting with city officials, Mrs. Lawson consulted with Sheriff William B. Martin who is inaugurating a Juvenile Aid Program in his department Jan. 1.

The Juvenile Aid Bureau is concerned with offenses committed by juveniles but the primary function is prevention, enforcement and rehabilitation. The following functions and services are made available through the bureau:

A comprehensive study, evaluation and processing of all reported incidents involving juvenile social deviants, the preparation and petitioning of criminal and non-criminal cases for court presentation.

Family and juvenile counseling involving close cooperation with outside agencies—the family court, probation, parole, charitable organizations and other concerned groups.

Ellenville URA Names Walpole

ELLENVILLE — Frank Walpole, who has served on the staff of the Ellenville Urban Renewal Agency for more than two years, has been named interim director of the project.

Walpole's appointment to the post was approved unanimously by the Ellenville Village Board and becomes effective immediately.

A retired correction officer, Walpole served at the URA's relocation administrator before accepting the post. He succeeds John Smith who resigned on Dec. 4 to accept the position of executive director of the Catskill Resort Association.

Ellenville Mayor Robert Dowling told the Freeman that the Village Board was very satisfied with the URA's new director, calling Walpole a "very effective administrator" who is "widely respected by all people in the community." Dowling said that the interim appointment would probably remain in effect for about three months. During this time, according to the mayor, additional applicants will be sought for the post.

The interim appointment was made to "maintain continuity," Dowling said.

The Village is also looking for a new relocation administrator to replace Walpole.

Ellenville Urban Renewal project, which commenced in 1964, has been limited to demolition and restoration of sections of the village's downtown business area. Initially the project, subsidized by the state and federal government was expected to be completed within three years.

When Smith assumed the directorship about a year ago the project was at a virtual standstill and on the verge of bankruptcy. However, under his direction, the project regained momentum and is nearing completion.

Mayor Dowling is hopeful that the project can be completed in about a year and a half and he expects that the momentum started by Smith will be maintained by Walpole because of the latter's "familiarity with the plan and ability to get things done."

PO in Lloyd May Be Moved

HIGHLAND — The Lloyd Town Board has been informed by a representative of the United States Post Office Department, that the Post Office here, which is currently located in the Town Hall may be moved.

In a letter sent to the Town Board, Allen M. Scise, of the Post Office Department's Real Estate Office, stated that bids will be advertised for a new location "possibly within the next two or three months" if "the department approves."

Presently, the Post Office operates from rented space in the Town Hall, but town officials want to reclaim the space in order to provide additional office space for the town government.

The board has been pressuring postal authorities for several years to find a new location for the Post Office.

EVERY WEDNESDAY!

FAMILY REUNION — Actress Gina Lollobrigida embraces her son, Milko Skofic Jr., as he arrives in Rome from Switzerland. He'll spend the Christmas holidays with her. (UPI CABLEPHOTO).

Red Cross Finds 300 Servicemen For Home Leaves

SAIGON (AP) — The American Red Cross said today it had located about 95 per cent of 300 U.S. servicemen in Vietnam who didn't know they had two-week home leaves arranged.

Speno Bill Would Require Junior Driver Education

ABANY, N.Y. (UPI)—State Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-East Meadow, has pre-filed a bill to bar driver licenses for 17-year-olds statewide unless the applicant has successfully completed a recognized course in driver education.

Would Protect Consumers Against Computer Errors

NEW YORK (UPI) — A bill designed to protect consumers from errors in computerized billing will be introduced in the legislature in January, Betty Furness, chairman and director of the State Consumer Protection Board, said Saturday.

Aussie Ballet Visit

SYDNEY (UPI)—The 72-member Australian Ballet Company left Sydney today for an 11-week tour of the United States and Canada.

The ballet will visit 18 cities under American promoter Sol Hurok, opening in Los Angeles Dec. 26 with guest appearances by Rudolf Nureyev and Lucette Aldous.

The relief agency said Pan American Airways asked for help because it was swamped with round-trip bookings made by relatives of GIs.

He said the 5 per cent Red Cross field workers couldn't find have left Vietnam on leave or ended their tours.

The leaves were made possible by a program recently started by the U.S. Command that has given several thousand GIs extra leaves.

Woman Burned To Death, Say She Started Fire

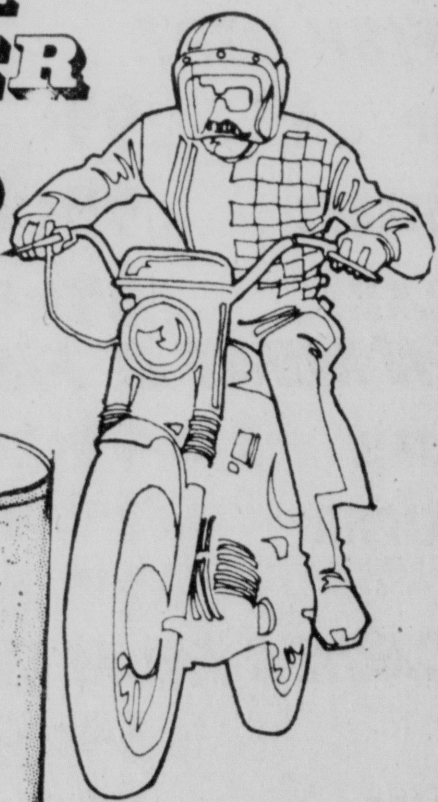

NEW YORK (UPI)—A woman burned to death early today after apparently setting fire to the two-story, two-family frame house where she lived, a fire department spokesman said.

Shortly before the blaze, authorities said, an anonymous caller told the fire department the woman was about to set herself afire. The caller, a woman, gave a wrong address, transposing the house numbers, apparently because she was "very excited," the spokesman said.

Many Czechoslovaks Victims of Dubcek Reforms

PRAGUE (UPI) — "He who kept his job has lost his honor because they approved the reforms of Alexander Dubcek or condemned the Soviet-led invasion that ended those reforms."

Behind this grim little epigram lies the reality of hardship for hundreds of thousands of Czechoslovaks caught in the purges which have sliced through this nation in the past year.

Men who once stood at the top of their profession have been dropped into manual labor because they approved the reforms of Alexander Dubcek or condemned the Soviet-led invasion that ended those reforms.

Among the victims are some famous names.

Emil Zatopek, a four-time Olympic champion, tours the countryside with a surveying team.

Jiri Hochman, a leading journalist, does manual labor in a provincial factory.

Frantisek Kriegel, a prominent surgeon and former member of the Communist Party's ruling politburo, is an old-age pensioner, even though he is only 62 and in fine health.

Dubcek himself — the former leader of the party — has no job at all. He lives in idleness in his summer house near Bratislava.

To have been victimized like this is a mark of honor with many Czechoslovaks. But it makes life no easier for the victims.

The purge of the Communist Party has ended now. More than 300,000 of the 1.4 million party members lost their cards. Some "suspended" members have kept their jobs. Ousted Membership of many others members have been lucky to find manual labor.

A second stage of the purge is beginning now. It is aimed at nonparty members who must undergo a close screening of their politics. Typical questions in this screening include:

—How do you assess the 1968 military intervention of the Warsaw pact countries?

—What have you done since 1967? Give details.

—Did you go abroad in recent years. If so, why? And where?

—Do you have contact with foreigners? Who?

—Who are your friends?

This purge of nonparty members has hit especially hard in education and the mass media. Seventy professors at Prague's Charles University have been fired because of "reformist leanings."

Many factories refuse to accept purged white collar workers, for fear of their "bad influence" on workers. Therefore, many leading Praguers who do not want to go to the provinces take a job on the Prague subway construction sites. A joke here says the subway is being built entirely by intellectuals.

EXIT 18 OFF N. Y. STATE THRUWAY NEW PALTZ

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two years ago Sunday the first known victims of the bragging psychopath who calls himself "Zodiac" died at a remote lovers lane.

Belcy, a Jensen, 16, and her boy friend, David Faraday, 17, shot to death with a 22 caliber pistol, were the first of at least five persons police believe were killed by "Zodiac."

And after thousands of tips, leads, and false trails "Zodiac" is still at large, still taunting police in chilling notes, and still threatening to kill again.

The publicity-seeking slayer boasts of killing 13 persons in recent years. Police have linked him definitely with five murders and possibly a sixth.

Terse Threats

A series of cards and letters to newspapers—ranging from terse threats to incoherent ravings about the sadistic tortures awaiting his victims in an afterlife—has failed to provide clues enough to identify him.

In addition to the teen-aged couple, "Zodiac's" known victims include two other young women and a taxi driver. The murders all took place between Dec. 20, 1968, and Oct. 11, 1969, in San Francisco and in remote spots 30 to 40 miles away on the northeast side of the bay.

Faraday and Miss Jensen were killed in a lovers lane near Vallejo, about 30 miles northeast of here.

The next slaying occurred in another lovers lane also near Vallejo, when Darlene Ferrin, 22, was shot to death on July 5, 1969, and her companion, Michael Mageau, 19 critically wounded.

Police didn't connect the two incidents—which occurred nearly seven months apart—until August, when the first Z messages arrived at newspapers here and in Vallejo. The notes were in code. Deciphered by a school teacher in his spare time, they bragged of all three slayings and said killing people was "more fun than killing animals."

Zodiac struck again on Sept. 27, attacking a young couple at Lake Berryessa, about 20 miles north of Vallejo. Cecilia Shepard, 22, was stabbed to death by a man wearing a hood marked with the sign of the Zodiac. Her boyfriend, Bryan Hartnell, was knifed a dozen times but survived. The killer scrawled the dates of the Vallejo murders and the Zodiac sign on the door of Hartnell's car.

Two weeks later, on Oct. 11, cab driver Paul Stine, 29, was gunned down in his taxi on a residential street in San Francisco. Zodiac sent pieces of Stine's bloody shirt in several later letters claiming credit for the slaying.

Although police don't think he has killed since, Zodiac's notes have claimed an increasing number of victims—up to 13—in the past year.

Inspector David Toschi of the San Francisco Homicide Bureau said one of two detectives assigned the case 15 months ago said the investigation was present.

"We're getting lots of communications from citizens trying to be helpful," he said. "We're checking out the handwriting and fingerprints of possible suspects. But we've run through a lot of names—more than a thousand—without any results."

In October of 1969, a man claiming to be Zodiac called a police and asked that attorney Melvin Belli appear on a local phone-in television show. A man identifying himself as the killer engaged Belli in a lengthy conversation heard by thousands of viewers.

The attorney arranged a meeting at which the man was to surrender, but he never showed up.

Letters and notes from the killer were in cipher at first, but more recently he has cut letters from newspapers and magazines and pasted them together to form messages. He also has printed threats on cards.

The messages included threats against school children and reporter Paul Avery of the San Francisco Chronicle, misspelled and fragmentary copy of the Lord High Executioner's opening aria with Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado," and rambling predictions of an afterlife in which his victims will be his slaves.

In another message he threatened to destroy a bus full of children.

"School children are nice targets," said the message. "I think I shall wipe out a school bus some morning. Just shoot out the front tires and then pick off the kiddies as they come bouncing out."

In addition to the messages and partial fingerprints from murder scenes, police have a description of the killer provided by Hartnell and by witnesses who saw a man fleeing from the area in which Stine was killed.

He is shown in a composite drawing as a white male, 35 to 40 years old, approximately 5 feet 8 inches tall, heavily built, with short brown hair and a possible reddish tint, and heavy rimmed glasses.

Homicide detectives expect him eventually to make a mistake. They hope it comes before he kills again.

Meet the men who preserve the past and provide for the future.

They're trustees of Kingston Savings Bank.

Their job? To act in the interest of KSB's depositors. And they do their job well.

They've seen to it that KSB depositors earn the highest returns on their savings allowed by law. And, at the same time, they've made wise investments — here, in our community.

They are men dedicated to preserving the past and providing for the future.

Of course, they're more than trustees. They're businessmen, professional men. Leaders in their community. And we'd like you to know more about them.

So, in the weeks and months ahead, we'll introduce you to them, one at a time.

We think, the more you know about your trustees, the more you're going to like Kingston Savings Bank.

The word "love" has been hurled at us so many times, sometimes we don't even hear it any more.

The fact remains, Love is what the world needs now. And it needs a lot of it.

But not "Love" on a poster. Or on a button. It's good-hearted, hard-minded acts of love the world needs. Acts of concern. Acts of respect for other human beings. Acts of creatively changing the world around us for the better. Send for our free booklet, "How One Town Put Its Faith To Work."

It tells you how a group of ordinary people in an ordinary town turned things around. All because they wanted to live the commandment: "Love your neighbor."

It just might bring love back in style.

Cub Scout Pack 32 Marks Thanksgiving

SAUGERTIES Roundtable Council for excellence in obtaining new members to Chairman Robert Brandt for display on the Pack Flag. Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Shultis also presented Denner and Assistant Denner bars, advancements and awards to David Sutkis, Michael McLaren, Jeffrey Whittenberg, Barry Craft, and Maurice Courmier, Gregory Squires, Kenneth Haas, Joseph Chaturmer and David Chase. Games followed with Kevin Michaels, Donald Simmons, Joseph Stier, Maurice Courmier and John O'Rourke carrying off the honors.

Troop 36 Holds Honor Dinner

SAUGERTIES master G. Karanza, with the assistance of honor guards, Cub Scout James Karanza and James Slobodian, and Scouts "Flanagan Hall" at Camp Apache.

Approximately 80 scouts, fathers, guests and scouters attended. Harry Slobodian, committee chairman, hosted the dinner ceremonies. Among the guests present were: John Vliet who retires this month and performed his last function as district executive for the Mohican Trail; Thomas Maggs, who will be replacing him; Robert Beckstein, the O&E chairman, and William Poythress, Explorer advisor.

After the dinner the scouts sang the newly adopted Camp Apache theme song, written and led by Scouts Thomas Beckert and William Karanza. This was followed by a film presentation by Scoutmaster George Karanza showing the troop in action during the summer camping season of 1970 at Camp Apache.

The awards of Star and Life scouts was performed by Scout-

Troop 17 Hikes Trail in Jersey

Boy Scout Troop 17 of Tillson-Rosendale hiked 17.29 miles recently on the famous historical Jockey Hill Trail near Morristown, N. J.

It was in this area that during the two critical winters of the Revolutionary War, 1777 and 1779-80, that the rolling countryside in and around Morristown sheltered the main encampments of the American Continental Army and served as the headquarters of its famed Commander in Chief, George Washington. Thus for a time this small New Jersey village became the military capital of the United States the testing ground of a great people in its heroic fight for "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness."

It was here then that members of Troop 17 took their hike through history reliving days of the American Revolutionary War. The hike started in the town of Gladstone at 8 a.m. and took the scouts through the Schiff Boy Scout Reservation in Mendham, through the Jockey Hollow Morristown National Historical Park, past Fort Nonsense and into Morristown itself where the Ford Mansion (Washington's Headquarters) and museum are located.

Twelve units participated in this historical hike, each unit setting their own pace. Units from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania representing boy scouts, girl scouts and explorer units were present.

Under the guidance of Scoutmaster John Lenz, assistant Scoutmaster John Helmer and Committeeman James Duff the following Scouts participated in the 17-mile hike: Jeffrey Chyzik, Emmanuel Gerondoras, Ronald and Richard Goss, Michael and Kevin Fairbrother, Theodore Horbert, Michael Jerkowski, Edward Lennon, John and Richard Lenz, Charles Lewis, Richard and Robert Muenkel, David and Daniel McEvoy, Joseph and John Mihm, John Naccarato, and David Royce.

Boy Scout Troop 17 is sponsored by the Tillson-Rosendale American Legion Post 1219.

Senate Full of Future Presidential Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana says he is considering running for president—so seriously, apparently, his would-be campaign managers are planning to hire a staff of 40 to help him ponder the question.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa says the odds are 100 to 1 against his becoming a candidate. Those odds, presumably, are somewhat lower at the political issues and research office already opened in his behalf.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington describes himself as an authentic noncandidate—while noting that "some very substantial people" have suggested he run.

"I've declined," said Jackson. Look across the Senate floor and on almost any working day you'll find there a cast of possible candidates, almost-candidates, candidates-in-waiting, and soon, candidates-in-being.

When the new Congress convenes at least 10 of the 55 men on the Democratic side of the aisle—and probably more—will fit one of those descriptions. Among them: Edmund S.

Muskie of Maine, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, George McGovern of South Dakota, Bayh, Hughes, Jackson, Fred Harris of Oklahoma, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, William Proxmire of Wisconsin.

Another long-shot possibility: Ramsey Clark, the former attorney general.

Indeed, the public opinion surveys turn up evidence of support among Democrats for Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City, a Republican.

"I think President Nixon is quite vulnerable in 1972, but the Democratic party has to hang together," said Iowa's Hughes.

"If we wind up with 12 Democrats running in the presidential primaries, it won't contribute to unity."

But the list of prospects 13 months before the primary campaign season opens in New Hampshire is a long one, and it centers on senators.

Bayh, 42 and serving his second Senate term, appears far down the path of candidacy.

He roams the nation on a speaking, base-touching tour; is looking for financial support and is expected soon to open a political command post for a White House nomination campaign.

"The best way to describe my present status is that I'm considering it," says Bayh, who gained national attention as a leader in the Senate struggles that led to the rejection of two Nixon nominees to the Supreme Court.

"I want to see whether it is a reasonable possibility."

But a politician familiar with the Bayh game plan says a political office will be opening soon, with a staff of about 40 people in Washington and in key spots around the country.

Bayh expressed confidence of raising money. "There have been enough people that have offered to provide funds," he said in an interview. "... I am surprised at the amount of interest that exists."

Bayh acknowledges the long lead now held by Muskie, but adds "It's not necessarily decided."

"I like Ed Muskie and think he'd make a good president," Bayh said. "All of the candidates I've heard proposed I'd be very compatible with him."

The translation seems to be that Bayh might well be interested in vice presidential nomination. "I hadn't considered it," he says.

"I plan to visit with some people around the country and let nature take its course. The idea of being able to use the influence of the presidency and pull it together and get it on the right track appeals to me."

Hughes, 48 and a three-term Iowa governor, says he is just trying to do his job as a freshman senator—but acknowledges soundings about presidential possibilities.

"I have no intention of being an announced candidate for the presidency for a long, long time—if ever," says Hughes, who got one per cent from Democrats in a recent poll.

As for the political office already opened in his behalf, Hughes explains it is designed to support his Senate activities, through research and issues development.

"I have never been to the of-ice," says Hughes. "I don't even know the telephone number."

But there are four people in that special Hughes office, not far from the Capitol.

"People are pushing him faster than he is prepared to go at this time," one source says of Hughes. "He's less than a hungry dragon now."

Unlike other possible Democratic contenders, Jackson takes a generally hard-line on defense and foreign policy issues.

"I don't think we can win in 1972 if we leave the country with the impression that we are not supporting a responsible defense and foreign policy ..."

Kunstler and Buckley Debate Judicial System

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — history they used to emphasize their arguments.

Kunstler, again relying on Jesus, "He said, 'think not I have come to destroy the law but to fulfill it.' And I would like to take the thought that Jesus was expressing, that his idea was not merely to destroy a system, but to make the system do what it was meant to do and was not doing."

"I have not yet reached the state that I would say the system has to be destroyed... The question is... can the American judicial system create any aspect of justice for all its citizens. The answer is no. It has not and perhaps it cannot."

Kunstler said equal justice before the law is one of the most profound myths of American life and he charged that justice is blind to the nation's many problems.

"It isn't that the whole system is at fault," Kunstler said. "I would guess that any white, middle class person with sufficient bankroll can probably get an approximation of justice."

"But all you have to do is change the character of the defendant. Make him or her a Black Panther or Weatherman, and a whole new pattern emerges. That's what we saw in Chicago," where he said government had determined to con-

America is seeing, said Kunstler, "the beginning of the use of the court system as an instrument of political oppression."

He proposed changes for the court system, including permitting a defendant the right to disqualify judges, the use of young people as volunteer jurors and giving a defendant access to all the assets of the state he needs to prepare a defense.

Taking up the call for reform, Buckley said the first reform he would make would be to disbar Kunstler. "We have to disbar him or repeal the code of ethics for lawyers in this state," he said.

"Mr. Kunstler is not prepared to take the total abrogation of lawlessness which is required."

In his opening statement, Buckley claimed the judicial process in the country was moving towards a standstill.

"This would please Mr. Kunstler enormously," he said, "because his definition of justice is acquittal of everybody who believes in the same politics he believes in."

Buckley argued that recent Supreme Court decisions had made it difficult for the judicial system to operate as it should.

"What has happened during the past 10 to 15 years is that the colonials were pretty much not because of crime, but because of their main cause of politics."

The American political and judicial systems are "one in the same at certain times... The end result of a system that uses its courts for political ends is a system which loses its essential freedom... and in its place comes something which is often too horrible to contemplate."

In defense of American courts, Buckley said that if the country is facing rebellious, rather than isolated acts, "then what happens is that you trigger counter-revolutionary powers. The point about revolutions is that you must be awfully sure to win a revolution, because revolutionaries who don't win are strung up. They shouldn't be strung up but they are."

"The answer to this rhetoric, whereby people strut around with revolutionary posturings and yet expecting the courts and policemen and all institutions of society to protect their rights, indeed assert their rights, is the grand paradox. The kind of revolutionists that I read about and lionize are the kind... that don't ask any tribulations in much the same rights for themselves. They are at war with the society and they acknowledge they are at war, and whoever has the power is going to win that war."

Court Disrupters Face Boldt Doctrine

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—The Seattle conspiracy trial is over for the moment, but the legal complications of its sudden end may strongly affect future trials where disruptive court-tactics are employed.

U.S. District Judge George Boldt's declaration of a mistrial and his ruling that the defendants must serve their contempt sentences before a new trial can be held may chill the hopes of radicals who plan to use the courts as a political platform.

But the "Boldt Doctrine," which the judge said came as an answer to his "daily prayers," must first be upheld at a Feb. 1 demonstration at the U.S. Courthouse in Seattle, double jeopardy.

In essence, the "Boldt Doctrine" involves calling a mistrial when the actions of the defendants have, in the opinion of the judge, prejudiced their own case with the jury.

Then, the judge would sentence the defendants for contempt of court and uphold the beginning of a new trial until the contempt terms had been served.

If disruptions continue to occur in subsequent trials, the procedure could be repeated, apparently endlessly.

Attorneys for the seven defendants, charged with conspiring to damage federal property

ing rocks and bottles, MPs tried to disperse the crowd by firing shots into the air, but they only succeeded in awakening up more residents, who took to the streets.

The crowd swelled quickly and began stopping automobiles carrying American registration plates, pulling their occupants out and then setting the autos on fire.

As the riot spread towards the 12,000-man Air Force base, more U.S. soldiers were called out and they began to use tear gas. The Okinawans retaliated by setting a car on fire and rolling it into a guard house.

Okinawans Riot, Burning Are Straining Relations

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI)—Rioting Okinawans who burned nearly 80 American cars and a school at a U.S. Air Force base on Okinawa could bring on further strained relations between the United States and Japan, officials from both countries said today.

The Japanese blamed Sunday's six-hour riot on what they called a "superior attitude" taken by American forces stationed on the island.

Before the Okinawans were subdued, 35 persons were injured and were arrested. Damage was estimated at $118,000.

The riot began early Sunday morning in Koza City when about 200 Okinawans, angered at the way a U.S. military police officer was investigating an auto accident, began throwing rocks and bottles. MPs tried to disperse the crowd by firing shots into the air, but they only succeeded in awakening up more residents, who took to the streets.

The crowd swelled quickly and began stopping automobiles carrying American registration plates, pulling their occupants out and then setting the autos on fire.

As the riot spread towards the 12,000-man Air Force base, more U.S. soldiers were called out and they began to use tear gas. The Okinawans retaliated by setting a car on fire and rolling it into a guard house.

JUDGES TAKE A BREAK — Friday afternoon was an eventful day at The Daily Freeman. Despite road conditions, three food specialists traveled long distances in order to judge the 1970 Recipe Contest. Sponsored by the Woman's Department of The Freeman, winners will be announced in Tuesday's paper. Here, Dorothy A. Narel, woman's page editor, serves refreshments during a break in the judging session. Pictured with her are, standing (L-R) Joan L. Woinoski, assistant, Woman's Department; Marilyn Corson, Foods and Nutrition Agent, Dutchess County Extension Service; Betsy Sheehan of Springfield, Mass., food publicity specialist for the American Dairy Association; and, seated at right, Bette Corson, Home Economics major at Pennsylvania State University. Close to 700 recipes were entered in the contest. (Freeman photo by Powell).

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

DEAR MRS. POST: I am a junior in high school, and have been dating one girl for over a year. She has one habit that drives me crazy. She's never on time. Every time I go to pick her up I have to wait 10 or 15 minutes. Arriving late doesn't help she just gets later. I got so mad I told her I was going to write to you, and she said girls were supposed to keep their dates waiting, but she would read what you said if you answer. I hope you can help me out.

"BURNING"

Dear "Burning": I'll be glad to! The idea that a girl should keep a man waiting came from the days when girls were supposed to be shy and demure, and never look "eager." Nowadays, young people are open and honest about how they feel, and it's just as rude for a girl to be late for a date as it is for anyone to be late for any appointment.

DEAR MRS. POST: A dear friend has returned home after a long stay in a mental hospital. Her husband has spread the word that she may have visitors, but I have hesitated because I do not know quite how to act or what to talk about. Have you any suggestions for a situation of this kind? Should I take a gift?

CLARE

Dear Clare: Don't hesitate a day longer. Go and visit your friend because she needs you now. Act just as naturally as you possibly can. Talk about what has gone on while she was away, in your family, and among your friends. Talk about future plans and projects in which she may be included. Don't ask about her illness, unless she brings it up. Take along a plant or flower arrangement, just as you might on any other visit.

DEAR MRS. POST: How do you go about getting a boy you've been going steady with to pay back money he owes you, after you break up? Or should I just forget it?

SANDY

Dear Sandy: You have every right to ask him for the money he owes you. The easiest way would be to write him a note reminding him of the debt. "Dear Joe, I have to buy a dress for the Christmas prom (or whatever reason is appropriate), so I wonder if you could possibly send me the ten dollars I loaned you? Best always . . ."

Hot Coffee, Buns Symbolize Moravian Christmas Love Feast

Several centuries before hippies appeared on the American scene, the pious Moravian sect had been enjoying its own brand of brotherly "love-ins". The Moravian love-in is called a Love Feast and it is held on holidays throughout the year. This Christmas, Moravians will be demonstrating the power of peace and love in their uniquely quiet way.

Members of the approximately two-hundred Moravian communities in the United States and western Canada will join together in church to rekindle the spirit of good will toward men. As the symbol of complete forgiveness, equality and unity, the congregation will share the simple refreshment of cups of steaming coffee and sweet, plain buns.

According to the history books, the Love Feast has been going on in one form or another since the beginnings of Christianity. The agapae, a ritual celebrated by early Christians to commemorate the Last Supper, is said to be its ancient predecessor. Hundreds of years later, in 1727, the Moravians had their first Love Feast when a small band gathered en masse in Upper Lusatia to settle disagreements and renew friendships.

In old Salem, North Carolina, in 1783, a chorus of trombones from the church steeple heralded Love Feasts on New Year's, Lent, Christmas and even the Fourth of July. While the choir sang, baskets of large, hamburger-shaped buns, with an "M" etched in each, and trays of freshly-brewed coffee were passed around.

The coffee was prepared in a giant iron caldron that hung over the open hearth of the church kitchen. Moravians preferred their coffee with heaps of sugar and generous amounts of cream. A cooking authority that we consulted mentioned that the coffee was actually brewed with both sugar and cream.

In young, industrious Bethlehem, Love Feasts were not limited to major holidays. Every undertaking, from having a field to spinning a shipment of wool, was reason enough for a simple coffee-and-bread ceremony. A birthday or thank-offering might call for a quiet Love Feast at home. Instead of only buns with coffee as in church, mother surrounded the coffee-pot with sugar cakes, cheese and biscuits.

At Christmas time the neighborliness of the church Love Feast extended to every home in the community for the entire yuletide holiday.

Just as we come to see each other's Christmas trees today, Moravians went "Putz-visiting". The Putz was a miniature model of the nativity scene. All members of the family, from the youngest child to the grandfather contributed to the making of the Putz.

Community membership was divided into groups or "choirs" designated by sex, marital status and age. Single Sisters wore caps with rose-pink ribbons for identification. Blue ribbons were for married matrons, white for widows and red was worn by teenage girls. Separate Love Feasts for choirs are no longer an integral part of Moravian life, but recently this old custom had an unusual modern application. Last month, the United Moravian Church in New York City held its first Love Feast for Senior Citizens.

Naturally, different Moravian congregations have tailored the Christmas Love Feast ceremony to suit their own current needs; some may hold the meeting before the holiday rather than on the Eve and others may serve bakery pastry instead of home-baked buns. But all the Love Feasts will share one common symbol — the simple meal of hot coffee and a little something to eat.

Year-Round Mischief-Makers Are Angels In Velvets Throughout Christmas Season

The traditions of Christmas have always been symbolized by giving and receiving, by opulent decorations, and by joyous feasting. But most of all Christmas is a time-for children.

Children around the world celebrate Christmas in different ways peculiar to their locales, but there is always a visit from Father Christmas and an emphasis on being good!

The original Santa was the 4th-century Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor, who arrived by mule, bearing gifts much in the manner of the Three Kings. Since then, Santa's mode of travel has proven a source of fascination to moppets around the world. For, by tradition, he must deliver gifts to all the world's children in one night.

While hymns of Mozart, Bach and Handel are being played in the great European cathedrals on organs dating from Medieval times, Santa visits each country's native children. In Switzerland, he comes by parachute, in Belgium, by helicopter — while in Hawaii, his arrival is via an outrigger canoe with a surfboard escort. He is greeted by throngs of children standing barefoot and carrying flowers to the beach.

Santa is Pere Noel in Tahiti, where, following his submarine arrival, he fills the children's shoes with sugars, spices and charms symbolizing the longevity of life, faith and hope. And in the Philippines, the Three Wise Men traditionally fill the shoes with similar gifts.

Lighted candles serve as part of the children's ceremonies in Norway, where the eldest daughter awakens her family wearing a wreath of candles in her hair. And behind the Iron Curtain, children float miniature candles in walnut half-shells in a bowl of water. The slowest burning candle represents the longest life.

Christmas splendor and its magical appeal for children explains a great deal of its charm. It is a special time for the young to look and feel in the spirit of the season. And for that reason, The Singer Company has created a collection of nostalgic Christmas velvets — old world in feeling, contemporary in cut — for Christmas children. The patterns are by Simplicity, and each of the designs can be made in a jiffy to be ready to wear for Santa's arrival.

There are new at-home pants for feeling rather grown-up — some are in-one-piece overall jumpsuits;

others are to be worn with a tunic type dress above. Either will go to winter birthday parties when Christmas is over. And for a really angelic look, there is a long velvet at-home dress with its deep lace-flopped hemline taken straight from an 18th century painting. The old-world velvet colors are: spruce, ruby and midnight black, available at most Singer Sewing Centers where fabrics are sold.

Sewing tip: Cut velvet and stitch from the bottom to the top, with the pile. For velvet, use silk thread and a size 11 needle; decrease tension until the stitching looks the same on the top and underside, and a 12 stitch length. Pressure exerted by the presser foot should be just heavy enough to carry the fabric, but not so heavy that it shows the print of the feed.

Chamber Music Series Slated

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society will hold a chamber music series in Kingston this winter. The concerts will be given at the Holy Cross Church on Saturday evenings at 8:30 p. m. The dates of the concerts are January 23, February 13, and March 6. On January 23, the Monteux Chamber Players will perform with Donald Pearson as organ soloist, and with Edward Simons conducting.

On February 14, a string group led by Luis Garcia-Penart will present their program the high point of which will be the Brahms Sextet. On March 6, Claude Monteux and "his friends" will "go for Baroque". The group and pieces are to be announced.

Margaret Beal of Kingston is chairman of the Kingston Chamber Music Series. Checks for the series, for a single concert, and for students should be made payable to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society and mailed to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Box 1, Uptown Post Office, Kingston.

Long before powered ships, seamen did the intricate knotting to while away the tiresome and lengthy days at sea. The ornaments they turned out were used as barter in foreign ports, gifts for the folks back home, or just to brighten the gloomy confines of the ship.

By VIRGINIA BIGGINS
Newport News Times-Herald
NEWPORT NEWS, Va.
(AP) — Navy knots have gone civilian.

The art of tying decorative knots is older than the Ancient Mariner, but the "now" generation sees it as a brand new trim for wearing apparel.

Called macrame or square knotting, the art is said to have originated centuries ago in Arabia, and spread into Italy about the time of the Crusades. No one is sure when it went nautical and joined the Navy.

Macrame is a varied form of lacemaking, closely related to tatting. It is more or less a fringe type decoration, using two basic knots — the half hitch and the half knot. However, various types of sailor's knots can be used to effect pleasing designs.

Macrame was a specialty in both the American and British navies in the middle of the 19th century.

Long before powered ships, seamen did the intricate knotting to while away the tiresome and lengthy days at sea. The ornaments they turned out were used as barter in foreign ports, gifts for the folks back home, or just to brighten the gloomy confines of the ship.

Over the years, the square knot work appeared in ships

as coverings for sea chests, as fringes for binnacles, capstans, wheels and as bell covers.

For some sailors, macrame was part of their test for proficiency in seamanship.

Today, small boats used to transport crew members from sea anchorage to shore are adorned with the decorative fringes. The knot work appears on admiral's barges, captain's gigs, on lifelines, about the quarterdeck and other ceremonial areas aboard larger vessels.

Macrame lanyards are used on boatswain's pipes. The Navy, however, is finding the art too costly to keep. The knot-work is time-consuming, and sailors these days cannot devote the hours necessary because of more pressing responsibilities.

But while the Navy appears to be fast losing one of its closest skills, the civilian world is presently rediscovering square knotting for its fashion world.

Women are learning the art via sewing centers and do-it-yourself kits. They are using any kind of cord or string from jute to packing twine to knitting wool and venetian blind cord to perform fashion miracles.

They are making fancy knotted belts, fringing for shawls, scarfs and tunics, and novel handbags.

Some of the gals have gone all-out on the macrame "kick" and made skirts and vests.

Square knotting also is used to decorate the home, applying the traditional "knot board" wall hangings to striking macrame room dividers or screens.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

My sister-in-law and nine of her friends have such a terrific Christmas cookie idea that I'm sure you all will want to know about it.

At their monthly luncheon they each agreed to make ten dozen cookies all of one recipe (each woman baking a different kind), and bring nine dozen to the December meeting in dozen-sized packages to exchange with each other.

By keeping one dozen of her own at home, each member of the group had ten different kinds of cookies for her Christmas festivities.

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:
When putting on or taking off a dress or blouse with a tight neckline that is apt to get make-up all over it, try putting a shower cap over your face before pulling off that blouse.

This will protect the neckline and save a cleaning bill.

them, then read them at the hair-dresser while I'm under the dryer.

What's more, I leave the columns there for someone else to enjoy.

Miss T. Delly

Now, ain't you sweet?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Being a noncalorie sweetener user (the liquid type), but not caring to tote oversized bottles everywhere, I took one of my food coloring containers — the little plastic type — and removed the plug. Then I rinsed it out and filled it with my favorite brand of sweetener.

Now it goes everywhere I go!

Mrs. M.R.

Dear Heloise:
I really happened onto a real thrifty idea:

While looking over a still good pair of children's knit pajamas with only the knees and toes worn (for some reason they always seem to go first), I decided the feet had to come off. I snipped them off about a half-inch below the elastic at the ankle. Then, while standing there with the cut-off feet in my hands, I decided they would make such nice patches (those soft plastic soles!). So, with a little clipping, I made ovals a little larger than the holes in knees. Eureka! Instant knee patches, and almost new P.J.'s!

Most mothers will agree the tops almost never wear out, and we are left with a drawer full of tops. Just hope lots of "No-bottom P.J. Mothers" will use this idea.

Besides being thrifty — they are cute!

THE NEXT TIME you get bussed under the mistletoe you might want to inform your "buzzer" that centuries ago mistletoe was used as a charm against witches and thunder, say researchers at the Shulton Company. While you're at it, make sure that the Yule log stays lit throughout the night. That's good luck. Most Christmas customs were adopted from Greek, Roman and Druid traditions.

Where Did You Get That Custom?

New York (NAPS) — It could have come from Sweden. Or France. Even fourth century Turkey played its role. Some of the more ancient customs might seem strange to us today, but each had a hand in revealing and shaping many of the Christmas customs and traditions we now enjoy.

The delightful custom of "bussing" under the mistletoe actually came from the ancient Druids, who called it "all heal" in the belief that it had the power to cure disease.

In the 13th century, the "carol" signified a dance rather than a song. In fact, St. Francis of Assisi led villagers in joyous dancing around the Nativity scene.

And it was an eighth century Benedictine monk, St. Boniface, who probably trimmed the first Christmas tree when he convinced heathens to stop worshipping a sacred oak and adorn fir trees in the homes as a tribute to the Christ child.

A fourth-century bishop of Turkey, Saint Nicholas, was the real-life predecessor of Santa Claus. According to a legend, he dropped a bag of gold coins down a chimney into a stocking which a poor girl had hung by the fireplace to dry; hence our custom of hanging Christmas stockings.

And Santa wasn't always the fat, jolly man you recognize today. He's gained plenty of weight since the Dutch called him Santa Klaas, and he rode a skinny white horse, not reindeer.

Yet when his legend began, he was just as important to men and women, as children. According to researchers at Shulton, Inc., Saint Nicholas was the patron saint of sailors.

The Swedes and Danes make a Christmas practice of baking a loaf in the shape of a boar-pig.

A French legend tells how the Christmas rose came into being. A little girl, accompanying the shepherds on their way to see the Christ Child, was sad because she had no gift to offer. The angel Gabriel appeared and, taking pity on the child, caused a beautiful white rose to spring from the ground. Overjoyed, the little girl plucked the bloom, which she took as a gift to the Infant Jesus.

Called Noel by the French, Navidad by the Spanish, Natale by the Italians and Weihnachten by the Germans, Christmas in our part of the world is derived from the Old English term Cristes mæsse (Christ's Mass), a term first used in the 11th century.

One custom has it that, if the Yule log stays lit throughout the night, it's good luck. But watch out if a quinting person comes in while it's burning. That's bad luck.

The part children play in Christmas is legendary. If he was lucky, the 16th century child got a ride on a huge Yule log when it was dragged into the manor house or castle. While caroling and feasting went on during Christmas eve, the youngsters played Snapdragon, a game in which the players tried to snatch a raisin from a bowl of burning spices and spirits.

In this country at Christmas-time, it's a rare father who hasn't winced at his perennial Yuletide gift, the tie he doesn't like. Many families have overcome the problem of what to give Dad with imaginative gifts that range from a new pair of

One of our most recent customs, the exchanging of Christmas cards, began in England in the 1840s. Christmas cards were introduced in the United States by Louis Prang, a German immigrant. Often called the "Father of the American Christmas Card," Prang printed his first "Seasons Greetings" in 1873.

In many countries of Europe, people still believe that all trees break into blossom for a few moments at midnight on Christmas Eve. The most popular flowering plant is the poinsettia, brought to the United States more than 120 years ago from Mexico.

To put it briefly, Christmas is a holiday full of surprises, and they're not all found under the Christmas tree on the morning of December 25th!

Swedish Yule: Smorgasbord of Traditions

"God Jul" is Swedish for Merry Christmas and the good food ideas that Swedes have been serving at Christmas for centuries can bring a unique and different flavor to your festive holiday table. And, Swedes believe in making merry for this holiday. The eat, drink, sing and play Christmas for almost a whole month; the season's first event being the Saint Lucia Celebration on December 13 and the last, Saint Canute's Day on January 13th.

It is a veritable smorgasbord of traditions — old and new, and above all, good food ideas that you can make easily for a really international Christmas feast.

Among the famous and traditional Christmas foods you would find in most

Swedish households is the specially prepared ham. This gave rise to another tradition: "doppa i grytan" — dipping in the pot. The pot with the stock in which the ham had been cooked was placed in the middle of the table and the whole family sat around dipping pieces of "vortlimpa", a type of rye bread baked especially for Christmas.

Along with the boiled or roast ham, spareribs, old-fashioned sausages and jams are equally popular at this time and on at least one of the days the "lutfisk" ritual is observed. "Lutfisk", dried split cod, is soaked and boiled and then eaten with a special white sauce.

Children look forward especially to the brightly decorated "Pepparkakor" —

Swedish ginger cookies — cut in the shapes of houses or gingerbread men. Not to be outdone is "Knack" — which is hard candy made of molasses and nuts.

To shake off the chill upon returning from "Julotta" — the very early Christmas morning church service, "Glogg" — a hot punch — is served. This is a potent but tasty concoction of alcohol, wine and spices that is served hot, sometimes even ignited. A few gulps of this heady brew and one is warmed in the pleasant way!

Swedes love to bask in the glow of candle light during their Christmas dinner. Candle light is one of the most carefully observed Christmas traditions in Sweden and one to add a beautiful glow to a Swedish-inspired dinner table.

LES IS TOO MUCH — Back Les Johnson (with ball) of L. A. Rams charges Giants' line after handoff from teammate Roman Gabriel (18) for first down in second quarter action of game at Yankee Stadium, New York City, Sunday. Hero Gabriel directed touchdown drives of 65 yards in six plays, 74 yards in eight plays and 41 yards in eight plays, giving the Rams a 21-3 lead, which led to a 31-3 rout. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

THE NOBLEST ROMAN — Hero Roman Gabriel (18) is thrown for a loss by Giants' Fred Dryer (89) and Jim Files (58) during fourth quarter action of the Rams-Giants game in Yankee Stadium, New York City, Sunday. Gabriel hurried two touchdown passes, helping the Rams to a 31-3 rout over the New York Giants. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

1000-YARD MAN — Ron Johnson (30) of the Giants is tackled by Richie Petitbon (1) of the Rams in first quarter of their game at Yankee Stadium Sunday. Coming in to assist is Ed Meador of the Rams. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Tired Old Rams Fleece Young Giant Lambs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams won a game Sunday but they lost their season.

The Rams, irritated at being written off and "ridiculed" as a group of old men who couldn't do the job after last Monday night's loss to Detroit, took out their frustration on the New York Giants Sunday in a 31-3 clobbering.

The victory kept the Rams in contention for a playoff berth for about three more hours, but they were dead when San Francisco routed Oakland, 38-7.

When the Rams still had a chance immediately after the game, coach George Allen said, "This is living. Life is winning. You can't just live unless you win." But the Rams didn't win anything in 1970 and the ultimate irony is that, despite Sunday's score, the season was more of a success for the Giants than it was for the Rams.

The Rams finished with a 9-4-1 record in second place in the Western division and the Giants would up at 9-5 and in second in the East. But the Rams were supposed to be a contender while the Giants, who hadn't been above .500 since 1963, were not supposed to be in the race after they started out with an 0-3 mark.

Even though the season wasn't a success for the Rams, they still went out to prove they're not too "old" to win.

Merlin Olsen, who came back from a knee injury last week to play until the Rams had it wrapped up, summed up the team's attitude. "We were ridiculed and laughed at by a number of people after last week's loss," Olsen declared.

"They said we were a group of old men who couldn't do the job. That was enough to trigger the reaction you saw. This is a team with a lot of heritage and pride and some people wrote us off and said that (Fran) Tarkenton was going to eat us up," Allen observed, "when people say you're too old, if you have pride it's bound to upset you a little."

Deacon Jones, the heart of the defensive line, said, "I'd rather play with veterans because they're smarter and they have experience that's priceless. You might lose a step, but you pick up a lot of knowledge."

He added, "Tarkenton said he liked to play against our defense. I wonder if he likes to play against it now. I still think he's a great quarterback, but he's got to learn to keep his mouth shut. Tarkenton usually gets away with a lot of gadgets and funny stuff like his laterals, but he didn't get away with any of that against us."

The Rams defense held Tarkenton to 11 completions in 33 attempts for 103 yards before he was lifted in the final period. And the Giants' top rusher, Ron Johnson, was held to 43 yards in 14 carries, although he became the first Giant to rush for a thousand yards in a season.

The Giants took a 3-0 lead on Pete Gogolak's field goal the first time they had the ball and then forced Los Angeles to punt. But the Rams scored the next four times they had the ball to take a 24-3 lead and the game was over with 3:07 still left in the first half.

Roman Gabriel directed touchdown drives of 65 yards in all together today but it was six plays, 74 yards in eight plays and 41 yards in eight plays. He threw TD passes of five and 40 yards to Pro: Studstill for the first two scores and Willie Ellison ran four yards for the third score. Two plays later, Myron Pottios intercepted a Tarkenton pass to set up a 25-yard field goal by David Ray.

Giant coach Alex Webster said, "we just couldn't get it clicking and they were the strongest team we've faced. But I told the team after the game that we were very proud of them this year and to remember that the Giants are going to be recognized as a contender in the future."

But while the Giants are looking ahead to a new era, the Rams are looking back at a five-year George Allen era that has yet to produce a single playoff victory.

And the future is still uncertain, because Allen's contract is now up and there's no guarantee that owner Dan Reeves will renew it.

Bengals Ahead of Timetable

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bengals threw perfectionist Paul Brown's play-off timetable off by two years but the Dallas Cowboys' five-week plan was right on schedule.

As a result, both of those teams—along with the San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Miami Dolphins—won their way into the National Football League playoffs with impressive victories Sunday, joining the Minnesota Vikings, Baltimore Colts and Oakland Raiders, who made it earlier.

Among the disappointed were the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs, Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals. Even winning didn't help

The road to the Jan. 17 Super Bowl in Miami begins next Saturday with Cincinnati at Baltimore and Detroit at Dallas. On Sunday, it's San Francisco at Minnesota and Miami at Oakland, with the winners meeting for the National and American Conference titles Jan. 3.

The other 18 teams can devote their attention to next month's college draft, with the Boston Patriots getting first pick thanks to their 2-12 record, worst in pro football.

The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 45-7 rout of Boston that gave them the AFC Central Division championship, at the same time insuring that the Patriots would get the pick of the college crop.

Brown, who beat out the Cleveland team he once coached by one game, called it a "personal dream come true. I didn't know we could do this well."

Running back Essex Johnson said when the expansion Bengals were born in 1968, Brown told the players it would take five years to mold a winning team.

The Bengals scored the first seven times that had the ball Sunday. Virgil Carter passed for one touchdown before an injury forced him to give way to Sam Wyche, who threw for two more and scored one himself. It was Cincinnati's seventh consecutive victory following a six-game losing streak.

Dallas smashed Houston 52-10 and captured the NFC East title as the Giants bowed to Los Angeles 31-3. Craig Morton of the Cowboys passed for 349 yards and five touchdowns, with Bob Hayes grabbing four of them.

Five wins in a row enabled the Cowboys to finish at 10-4 and erased the doubts they had when they had a so-so 5-4 record after an embarrassing 38-0 loss to St. Louis.

John Brodie's three scoring passes paced the 49ers to their first championship in their 25-year history with a 38-7 romp over Oakland. Had the 49ers lost, they would have lost the NFC West to Los Angeles and missed the playoffs, as well.

Brodie was nailed by the opposition only eight times all season, breaking the record of nine set last year by the New York Jets.

Roman Gabriel threw to Pat

Studstill for the first two Los Angeles scores against the suddenly inept Giants, but the result from Oakland made losers of the Rams on a day when they played the best game we have played in a couple of years," according to defensive tackle Merlin Olsen.

Detroit and Miami wound up with 10-4 records and made the playoffs with the best second-place records in their respective conferences.

The Lions blanked Green Bay 20-0 behind return specialist Lem Barney, who ran 49 yards to score with an interception, raced 65 yards with a punt to set up another touchdown and put the ball in field goal position with a 74-yard kickoff return.

The Dolphins blasted Buffalo 45-7 for their sixth straight win and the highest point total and most one-sided victory in their five-year existence. Jim Kiick barreled into the end zone three times and Larry Csonka set up two scores with a 54-yard run and a 54-yard pass reception.

The Chiefs, eliminated from a playoff shot by Miami's victory, then went out and bowed to San Diego 31-13 as Mike Garrett scored twice, including a 44-yard run on which he broke two tackles after taking a shovel pass from John Hadl on a busted play. Later, Garrett insisted it was his farewell to football. The star running back said earlier in the year he was quitting to pursue a baseball career.

Cleveland presented Coach Blanton Collier with a retirement present in the form of a 27-13 triumph over Denver, with Bill Nelsen passing for two touchdowns and Bo Scott scoring two.

Sonny Jurgensen's passing and the running of Charley Harraway helped Washington to a 15-point lead over St. Louis and the Redskins held on for a 28-27 decisions when Jim Bakken of the Cards, who earlier booted two long field goals, flubbed a 21-yarder with four minutes left.

Elsewhere, Minnesota trounced Atlanta 37-7 as quarterback Gary Cuozzo returned to action, Chicago beat New Orleans 24-3 on Jack Concannon's three TD tosses and Philadelphia snapped a tie in the final four minutes and defeated Pittsburgh 30-20.

Baltimore finished its regular season Saturday by whipping the Jets 35-20 as Earl Morrall threw four scoring passes.

Cleveland's Stock Just Bull Market

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland stock shot up with a 46-42 halftime lead over Chicago... but it turned out to be a Bull market, anyway, by the time it was over.

The first-year Cavaliers, who haven't beaten an established National Basketball Association club yet, was on its way Sunday night with a four-point lead at the intermission.

However, it was an old story in the second half as the Chicago Bulls poured it on and surged to a 116-103 victory.

Elsewhere in the NBA, New York beat Phoenix 133-118; Milwaukee trounced Buffalo 131-101; Detroit whipped Cincinnati 136-132 in two overtimes; San Diego toppled Seattle 110-108 and Philadelphia outlasted Portland 134-132 in overtime.

In the ABA, Texas bombed New York 118-106 and Utah stopped Carolina 129-108.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was Baltimore 134, Boston 128; Cincinnati 119, Milwaukee 110; New York 98, Chicago 87; Los Angeles 116, Atlanta 104; San Diego 118, Portland 108; Philadelphia 108, San Francisco 99; Seattle 135, Phoenix 131 and Cleveland 123, Buffalo 112.

Chet Walker scored 12 points and Jerry Sloan chipped in with 11 in the third period to help Chicago shoot back from the four-point halftime deficit.

The Bulls hit 15 of 27 first quarter shots to take a 32-18 lead, then went flat in the second period as Cleveland steadily built its lead behind John Warren. Then Walker and Sloan took over in the second half.

Walker wound up with 24 points and Sloan had 17. Warren led the losers with 15.

New York hit 31 of 51 first half field goal attempts to establish a 21-point halftime margin then coasted over Phoenix. Walt Frazier scored 19 of his game leading 26 points for New York in the first half.

The Milwaukee Bucks hammered out a 25-4 spree during six minutes of the third quarter and rolled over Buffalo. Milwaukee's Lew Alcindor was high man with 27 points.

Elvin Hayes' 35 points guided San Diego over Seattle.

A pair of free throws by Archie Clark with 26 seconds left in overtime enabled Philadelphia to nip Portland. Clark forced the game into overtime with a 15-footer that tied the score 123-121 with one second

Santa Anita opens its stake studded horse race meeting on Saturday.

The $50,000 California Breeders' Champion at seven furlongs features the opening of the famed California track at Arcadia and also headlines the holiday weekend in thoroughbred racing.

Elsewhere on Saturday there is the $25,000 Hessian Handicap at Liberty Bell, the $20,000 Capital Handicap at Laurel, the $20,000 Miami Beach Handicap at Tropical Park and the $10,000 Sugar Bowl Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

There will be a lull on Christmas Day, Friday, with only Tropical Park and the Fair Grounds scheduled to operate. Lincoln Downs in Rhode Island closes the New England season today and the Northern California season at Bay Meadows ends Tuesday.

Silver Isle failed to make it four in a row in the first running of the Saratoga Stakes at Bay Meadows last Saturday. Ipse $5 won the six furlong race by a neck over Class A, Silver Isle was fifth and last.

Bobby Ussery rode three winners at Tropical Park including an eight-length romp by Lions Sleeps $6.60 in the Coral Gables Handicap.

I'm For Mama $3.40 and Tak Aback $2.80 won the split divisions of the Poqueusing Handicap at Liberty Bell while Tall $26.60 and Joey Bob $3.80 took the split divisions of the Louisiana Breeders' Futurity at the Fair Grounds.

Texas Tech Failed Against the Rock

By MIKE WESTER

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—"We just got out of it."

So said Bud Carson, the young coach of the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets following Saturday's 17-9 victory over Texas Tech in the 36th annual Sun Bowl Football Classic.

"Our players played a great game, we had one of the best first halves of the entire season, and then we hung on for the victory," he added.

Georgia Tech, a highly-recognized defensive club, completely contained Texas Tech's offense for the first half but managed to take only a 10-0 edge to the dressing room.

The aroused Raiders came back in the third quarter to pull within one point. Three "breaks" turned the game back around to Georgia Tech in the final minutes.

"The missed field goal with 8:51 remaining broke our spirit a little," said Jim Carlen, head coach of the Raiders and a Georgia Tech alumni. "But we still had plenty of time to come back—and a couple of chances. The offside penalty called on our defense when we recovered that Jacket fumble at their 28, and Doug McCutchen's fumble at our 25 took us out of the game."

Georgia Tech took the opening kickoff and marched 62 yards on 11 plays with Rod Healy scoring from the two.

Jack Moore added a 22-yard field goal with 42 seconds remaining and the Jackets led 10-0.

The Raider comeback, led by the running of McCutchen and Larry Hargrave, moved Texas Tech 85 yards on seven plays. McCutchen got the touchdown on a seven-yard end sweep.

Just two minutes later the Raiders defense added two more points when Don Rives crashed through and blocked a Georgia Tech third-down punt in the end zone for a safety.

After Bill Flowers recovered the fourth-down McCutchen fumble at the Raiders 25 with just over three minutes left, the Jackets moved in for the final score, using six plays and calling upon sophomore Kevin McNamara to carry it over from the two with 1:44 remaining.

Jacket All-American tackle Renzo "Rock" Perdoni was named the outstanding lineman. He said Texas Tech had some of the best backs he had faced all year.

Both teams finished the regular season with 8-3 records, combined with the bowl victory, was the first time since 1966 the Rambling Wrecks have done so well.

Pick Forys All-State X-Country

BROOKLYN Chuck Forys, star runner for the Washingtonville High School cross country team, has been named to All-State first team for harriers, according to Marc Bloom, editor of the New York State Scholastic Track yearly handbook.

Forys ran undefeated in the Rockland-Orange County area and also won a section of the State meet. The Washingtonville harrier also made the first team for the New York State Public High Schools Athletic Association.

The Section Nine star joins some pretty fast country (no pun intended) as he shares the top three positions with Rich Langford, the State Public Schools champion and Brian Farci, the New York City School titlist.

Langford, a senior at Voorheesville High near Albany, was undefeated capturing 13 major titles including a near-record performance in the NYSPSAA Run.

Faraci, a Fordham (Bronx) Prep junior, won his last five races including a section of the Fordham Eastern States, the private schools and sectional titles. All events were staged at the 2.5 course at VanCortland Park in the Bronx.

Other members of the state squad include: Paul Barbary, Power Memorial senior; James Harmon, St. Agnes senior; Tom Smith, Notre Dame, Utica senior; Ray DeMarco, Voorheesville senior.

Listed on the NYSPSAA team are: Forys, Langford, DeMarco; Tom Jackson, Sayville; Bill Kinsman, Susquehanna; Tom Blackmore, Clarence; Bob Saxton, Wayland.

Power Memorial was named as the top team in the State, edging Christian Brothers Academy of Syracuse. Power mentor, Brother Bielen, was named as Coach of the Year.

Other schools in order of rank are: Sacred Heart, Yonkers; St. Joseph's, Buffalo; Ithaca; Clarence; Sevanahka; Sayville; McQuaid, Rochester; Molloy, Briarwood.

The top five NYSPSAA teams are: Ithaca; Clarence; Sevanahka; Sayville; Levittown Divisional.

Port Ewen Beats Wrentham '5'

KINGSTON Port Ewen Reformed edged Wrentham Raiders, 52-48, in recent YMCA "B" League action.

John Yankoglia led the winning side with 18 points. Glen Littlefield sank 13, John Harris also totalled that number, and Bill Chappell had 10.

The losers were paced by Ken Connerton's 13 and Mike Curran's 12.

Early Santa for Purdue

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer Oh, there's no place like home for the holidays... except if you're the Purdue basketball team.

Then, it's sometimes better to play your games on the road.

The Boilermakers were invited to the Kentucky Invitational Tournament over the pre-Christmas weekend and wound up treating their hosts most rudely.

The result was an 89-83 upset victory over Kentucky's third-ranked powerhouse Saturday night.

"We're a young team and a lot of the guys have been a little slow starting," said Purdue Coach George King, but he could have fooled Kentucky.

Dill Franklin tipped in one basket and scored on two lay-ups to spark Purdue's race horse offense that buried the Wildcats with swift precision.

"Now we're putting it together," said King, after his surprising Big Ten team spoiled the Wildcats' 25-game home winning streak and handed them their first defeat of the year.

Other highly-ranked clubs had scares over the weekend before pulling out nerve-wracking victories.

Second-ranked South Carolina squeezed by Virginia Tech 78-76; eighth-rated Southern California tipped Texas-El Paso 65-63 and No. 9 Drake held off Texas Christian 79-78.

"I've got to figure we were lucky," said South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire after Tom Riker's tip-in with a second end pulled out hair-raising triumph.

South Carolina, its deliberate style of play steered by guard John Roche held the ball for the last minute to set up the final shot. Roche knifed toward the basket and missed, then Riker pumped the ball through. Virginia Tech missed some critical foul shots.

Paul Westphal converted both fouls in a one-and-one situation for Southern Cal. as the Trojans won the Sun Bowl Tournament at El Paso and Drake took Texas as Christian in the final of the Texas Classic at Fort Worth on Tom Bush's last-minute free throw.

Other teams in the Top Ten who saw weekend action included No. 4 Marquette, an 83-66 conqueror of Long Beach, Calif. State; No. 6 Penn., a 107-88 victor over La Salle of Philadelphia and 10th-rated Villanova, who beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-75.

Tournaments flooded the country, and there were a few surprises. Unheralded St. John's of New York took the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville, Tenn., by beating the Commodores 85-81 behind Rich Lyons' three straight buckets at the end.

Michigan State, an upset winner over New Mexico the night before, ripped Rutgers 81-71 to win the Lobo Invitational at Albuquerque, N.M.

Mississippi won the Marshall Invitational at Marshall, W.Va., behind high scoring Johnny Neumann, who pumped in 40 points as the Rebels outscored Marshall 118-88.

Tennessee, the 14th-rated team in the country, downed

Providence 77-58 to win the Volunteer Classic; No. 13 Kansas won the Jayhawk Classic by whipping Houston 89-73; North Carolina State took the Big Four by whipping Wake Forest 73-70; Nebraska grabbed the Husker Classic by topping Colorado State 69-65; Utah won the Utah Classic, beating Washington 89-78 and Southwestern Louisiana nailed the Bayou Classic by clobbering Oklahoma State 88-71.

Elsewhere Jim McDaniels 34 points led No. 11 Western Kentucky to a 100-90 victory over Butler; Rich Yunkus scored 33 to lead Georgia Tech over Auburn 87-76; Princeton beat Stanford 81-76; Oregon whipped Temple 76-65; Fordham throttled Syracuse 98-75 and Penn State tripped Boston College 66-63.

Donkey Tilt Is Staged By Jaycees

KINGSTON Members of the faculty and student body of M. J. Miller School, Kingston city disc jockey's and the Kingston Jaycees took part in the first donkey basketball game ever staged in Kingston. The game, or games, were held Saturday evening at the Kate Walton Field House.

The donkeys, specially trained for the amusement of the audience, wore non-marking, non-skid rubber shoes on the Field House floor. The only other protection provided for the Kingston High and Ulster County Community College home court were a bright red broom and shovel.

In the faculty-student tilt, the teachers came out on top, 8-6. Playing for the faculty were: Joe Savarese, Kirt Hoffman, Doug Goodmote, John Rutski and John Roche. Student players included: Tim Pillsworth, Angelo DiGregorio, Jimmy D'Amico and John Till.

The Jaycees blanked the DJs in the second game, 12-0. Members of the p latter spinners' squad included: Bill Sacker, Dick Hyatt, WGHQ; Ron Lyon, WBAA; Skip Bartz, Mike Fisher, WKNY. Jaycees' stars included: Larry Hendershot, William Kayma, Dick Burns, Joe Vartanessian, Pete Kearney, Dave Ralston and Mort Alling.

UCCC Matmen Roll, 23-10

KINGSTON

Ulster County Community College wrestlers entered the victory column for the first time this season but suffered a key loss in the process as they beat Manhattan Community, 23-10, Saturday, in the auditorium.

The Senators recorded two pins, a decision and two forfeits en route to the win which followed two previous defeats. But Ulster matman Don Murat was lost to the squad indefinitely when he broke a rib during his 142-pound match.

Pete Nekos and Rick Cyr were winners again for UCCC. Nekos pinned Louis Alacan in the 134-pound class at 2:15. Cyr beat 190-pound Bill Megneys by a fall at 6:40.

Ulster travels to Troy Dec. 29 for the Collar City Classic.

The results:

UCCC 23; Manhattan 10

118 lbs.—no contest.

126 lbs.—Perkins (U) won by forfeit.

134 lbs.—Nekos (U) pinned Alacan (M), 2:15.

142 lbs.—Voita (M) pinned Murat (U), 1:15.

150 lbs.—no contest.

158 lbs.—Elston (M) won by forfeit.

167 lbs.—no contest.

177 lbs.—Fieler (U) dec. Grafalis (M), 10-1.

190 lbs.—Cyr (U) pinned Megneys (M), 6:40.

Heavyweight — Gonzalez (M) pinned McNamara (U), 1:20.

Kickers Move Over Bavarians

MORGAN HILL

Kingston Sport Club Kickers didn't lift a foot Sunday, but managed to move out of the cellar in the Premier Division South of the German-American Soccer Association.

Idled because of a postponement, the Kickers moved a notch ahead of the Bavarians when the latter team dropped a 1-0 decision to Doxa of New York.

In other South Division action, Austria topped Kolping, 3-1; College Point and Newark battled to a 0-0 tie. Dalmatinac routed Haledon, 7-0. Spring Valley and Brooklyn the two top teams were idle.

In the League Division, American Czechs defeated Poughkeepsie, 4-2; White Plains shut out Stamford, 5 to 0, and Lithuanians and Ukrainian Youth fought a scoreless draw.

New York Hota, the best soccer team in the East at the moment, shut out Blue Star, 3-0, while Elizabeth and Goitschee played a 2-2 tie in the Major Division. Other scores were: Philadelphia Nationals 1, Honoken 0; Hellenic 2, Eintracht 2; and New York Hungaria 1, Ukrainians 1.

Hota used the game as a tuneup for its New York Challenge Cup finals against German-Hungarians next Sunday at Metropolitan Oval in New York.

Hota's big guns dominated the action against Blue Star. Radmilno Mitrovic scored two goals and Horst Kneissl the third with a minute left to play. Mitrovic first connected at 46 minutes of the first half on a pass from Johnny Kerr, the outside right who played a sensational game. Mitrovic garnered his second at 19 minutes into the second half after intercepting a pass from Blue Star fullback, Clive Burnett.

The New York Challenge Cup is the most coveted prize in American soccer. The German-Hungarians, who last won the cup in the 1950-51 season, played a non-league game against the German-Americans Sunday and had little trouble grinding out a 4-1 victory.

Elizabeth, the defending United States champion, had to come from behind twice to tie the Blau Weiss Goitschee, 2-2.

Geyhan Gangor scored both Goitschee goals, while Heinz Teska and Hector Yanez each scored for Elizabeth. The Elizabeth had previously clinched honors in the New Jersey District Challenge Cup competition and will meet the Pennsylvania-Maryland winner.

Tibor Szalay put Hungaria ahead of Ukrainians, 1-0, but Wilberforce Mfum, considered the finest soccer player in the country, tied the score for the Ukes.

The Philadelphia Nationals, a newcomer to the league, topped Hoboken, 1-0, on a shot by Boy Boy Mountang, formerly with the Atlanta Chiefs of the North American Soccer League.

The league schedule for next weekend is contingent upon the weather.

Greyhound Track Is Cleared of Mafia Rap

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)

—A greyhound racing track, partly owned by Emprise Inc. of Buffalo, N.Y., has been cleared of charges of Mafia influence.

A special state legislative committee said Saturday it found no indication of underworld influence in the operation of the Southland Racing Corp. here.

The committee had heard testimony from U.S. Rep. Sam Steiger (R-Ariz.) that Jeremy Jacobs, owner of Emprise, had conducted business with persons identified as members of the Cosa Nostra. Emprise owns 46.6 per cent of Southland's stock.

Doug Clevenger Tops Army Five

WEST POINT

Doug Clevenger leads Army basketball scorers with an 18.8 point average after six games. The veteran star has collected 46 field goals and 21 free throws for 113 points.

Runnerup is Bob Sherwin with 73 points and a 12.2 average. Others in double figures are Ed Mueller with 11.7 on 70 points and Max Miller with a 10.3 average on 62 points.

Miller is the Cadets' top rebounder with 42. Army has lost the ball on turnovers 102 times and the opposition 130 times. The statistics were compiled by Art Altheiser.

Legion Bids For Tourney

KINGSTON Post 150 has filed a bid to host the 1973 New York State American Legion Bowling Tournament, it was learned today. A decision to enter the bid was made following lengthy discussion on the matter at the December meeting of the local post.

In voting to submit a bid, the membership was advised by Albert O. Sonnenberg, Post 150 bowling chairman, that the 1973 tournament will be awarded to a Third District Legion post this year.

American Legion policy, Sonnenberg noted, is to award the annual state championships to districts on a rotation basis. This limits bidding for 1973 to Legion posts in the seven-county Third District comprised of Ulster, Albany, Rensselaer, Columbia, Greene, Schoharie and Sullivan counties.

The New York State American Legion bowling tournament was inaugurated in 1950. In two previous tournaments hosted by the Third District, Albany Legion posts were the hosts. The last one was in 1965. In recent years, this tournament has hosted between 400 and 500 teams, with the competition stretching over approximately six weekends. The event will be held on Long Island.

The 1971 tournament is scheduled for Cortland and the 1972 tournament will be held in the Third District at the Department of New York American Legion's annual legislative conference in Albany on February 15-16. Any post in the Third District that can offer adequate facilities and manpower to host and properly conduct a state American Legion tournament is eligible to bid for the championships.

Schleede Dunks 20

KINGSTON Dave Schleede had 20 points to lead Immanuel to a 30-12 win over Clinton Avenue Methodist in YMCA Junior Church League play.

In other games, Port Ewen clubbed Hurley, 36-17; St. George nipped Trinity, 16-15; and Riverview crushed Redeemer, 59-5.

Immanuel held a slim 11-8 halftime lead in its game with Clinton Avenue before racking up 19 to the loser's four after the intermission. Top scorer for Clinton Avenue was A. Wiley with 8.

Port Ewen outscored Hurley 6-1 in the first quarter and was never headed. Lyons led the Port Ewen team with 14 points.

Kwasnowski had 7 for Hurley. A late Trinity surge was not enough to top St. George. The losers were down 11-7 going into the final quarter but could make up just three of the four point deficit. J. Yankogel headed St. George with 7. High scorer for the game was Trinity's S. Bittner with 9.

Riverview held Redeemer scoreless in the second and fourth quarters in its overwhelming win. D. Burris led the Baptist team with 18. P. Shults had 3 for Redeemer.

Wilson Stars In Classic

KINGSTON Joe Wilson paced the high-scoring bowlers of the Invitational Classic with a 650 triple. Joe had the individual high single, hitting a 278 game. His other efforts were slightly lower at 188 and 184.

Other 600 rollers were: Doug Weeks, 601; Tom Kearney, 641; 246; George Glaser, 607; Joe McGrane, 607; Phil DeCicco, 635; Larry Peters, 603; Bill Norieka, 613; Don Van Kuren, 624; John Finch, 611-239; Leroy Lewis, 233; George Magley, 230; Irv Brown, 605; Ken LaCasse, 614; Jerry Woodvine, 607; Bob Shlightner, 231.

Bowlers on the Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl squa hit a high triple of 2967. Individual games were: 1044, 905, 1018. Other high team scores were: Capri 400, 1003; Hurley Sand and Gravel, 1005; Lou's Barber Shop 1001.

Nassau County Region's No. 1

KINGSTON Nassau County Community College stood first in the Region XV basketball ratings today but Ulster Community, although not in the top five, positioned itself to fourth in the win-loss standings.

Nassau edged Westchester CCC by three points in the voting to take the number one spot. Dutchess was third, one point better than Manhattan, and Staten Island, first in the standings, was fifth in the ratings, according to figures released today.

Statistics on Nassau, Dutchess and Manhattan were missing in the report issued by Dave Ross of the N.C.A.A. Service Bureau.

Ulster was behind Staten Island, Westchester and Farmingdale in the team standings. The Senators' slot was based on their six-game record of 4-2. Staten Island was undefeated in five games while the Westcos were 6-1 and Farmingdale was 4-1. Ulster has since won two more games to put its seasons' mark at 6-2.

Coach Mike Perry's Stone Ridge five holds down fourth place in team offense with an average of 79.0 for six games. Staten Island leads this category with a two-game norm of 104. Community is second, averaging 81.5 for two games. Fashion Institute is third with 79.3 in seven games, while being held to 49 in a meeting with Ulster. The Senators are third in team defense, an important department to Coach Perry who is stressing that phase of the game this season. Through six games UCCC had given up 67.5 points per game. Fashion was first in this department having allowed 66.4. Ulster, however, hit for 97 points against F.T.T. Farmingdale is number two in defense with 66.6. Fourth is Mitchell and fifth is Staten Island.

Individual scoring leader is Larry Alexander of Bronx County College with 53 points in two games for 26.5. UCCC captain Glen Berry is listed ninth with a six-game average of 16.5 but two straight 23 point efforts have pushed it to 18.1 which would place him sixth.

Art King stands second in the scoring race with 24.6 just ahead of Westchester's Nate Carter who has netted 24.4.

Leader in assists is Richard Pagan of Mitchell with 11.0. Larry Hill of Sullivan is runner-up with 18.0.

Rebounding and assists were the only two categories in which Ulster was not represented. The Senators' Berry and Cliff Weeks split most of the board clearing while George Civile and Rogar Govantes have been handling the playmaking.

Rangers and Hawks Pair of Rude Hosts

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Between them, the New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks have played 34 games on their home rinks in this National Hockey League season. And neither has been a very gracious host.

Both the Rangers and Hawks extended their home ice unbeaten streaks Sunday night, New York thumping Vancouver 5-1 while Chicago rallied to nip Pittsburgh 2-1.

In other NHL action Sunday, Toronto tripped Buffalo 4-2, California blasted Detroit 7-3, Boston ripped Minnesota 7-2 and Los Angeles walloped Montreal 7-2.

In Saturday's games, New York took Minnesota 5-3, Boston whacked St. Louis 7-1, Philadelphia and Los Angeles tied 2-2, Toronto blanked Buffalo 2-0 and Pittsburgh bombed Detroit 9-1.

The Rangers extended their home ice unbeaten string to 16 games, bunching three second period goals 3½ minutes apart by Pete Stemkowski, Ron Stewart and Bob Nevin to take control of the game. Rod Seiling and Bill Fairbairn had scored in the opening 20 minutes for New York and Andre Boudrias connected for the Canucks.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Rangers who have lost just one game in their last 13, and it kept them two points behind the streaking Bruins, leaders in the NHL's East. Meanwhile, in the West, the Black Hawks used third period goals by Pit Martin and Bobby Hull to squeeze past Pittsburgh. Hull's goal with 2:36 left to play, extended Chicago's home ice winning string to 13 games.

The Hawks are unbeaten in 18 games against the Pittsburgh Penguins and the Golden Seals.

The Hicke brothers got the Seals started with a pair of power play goals before the game was five minutes old and California just piled it on after that.

Doug Robinson and Ross Lonsberry collected a pair of goals apiece as Los Angeles snapped an 11-game winless streak at the expense of Montreal.

Hot-shooting Phil Esposito picked up two goals and two assists for Boston, increasing his amazing scoring pace to 64 points in 32 games. Esposito now has 32 goals. Johnny McKenzie scored three times for Boston.

Dave Keon's tie-breaking goal in the second period moved the Leafs towards their victory—Toronto's second straight against their old coach, Punch Imlach, and the expansionist Sabres.

Billy Hicke and his younger brother, Ernie, each scored two goals as California routed Detroit, completing a disastrous weekend for the Red Wings, who allowed 16 goals in two

Putnam Named

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Neil Putnam, offensive line coach under Carmen Cozza at Yale the past six seasons, is the new head football coach at Lafayette.

Putnam, who coached three years at Dartmouth under Bob Blackman before moving to Yale, was given a three-year contract during the weekend to take over at Lafayette. He succeeds Harry Gamble, who recently was appointed head coach at Penn.

Washington Blacks Register a Protest

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — A spokesman for former black athletes at the University of Washington said Sunday recommendations of a blue-ribbon committee aimed at curbing alleged racism in campus athletics were disappointing.

The racial friction of the past year involving some varsity football players also threatens the job of head football coach Jim Owens.

A special university committee Saturday night recommended the hiring of a black assistant football coach and a black administrator in the athletic department "as soon as possible" as an initial step towards easing the friction.

The committee, which included university president Dr. Charles Odegaard and several members of the board of regents, also said a special assistant to the student affairs officer would help the athletic department make its program conform to the school's municipal policy.

Joe Jones, a former Husky fullback who was one of four blacks who quit the football team this year, said Sunday he had expected the recommendations which were made.

"A black coach and a black administrator . . . I just don't see how that's going to solve anything," said Jones. "Owens is still going to run the show . . . his way."

"I really had no big hope for anything else," he added. "I think a lot of people were under the illusion that something would happen. I predicted four weeks ago that nothing would happen."

Jones said there is a distinct possibility the Huskies may field an all-white football team next year.

"The club isn't going to do any recruiting of blacks," he said.

Owens said he was reading the report and "will take it under advisement."

The committee's recommendations apparently were a compromise after two weeks of intensive investigation into the situation.

"It is clear that problems generated by racial antagonisms exist within the functioning of the football program and to some degree in the department of intercollegiate athletics," the committee's report said.

The report added that "positive efforts have been made to correct these problems but they have . . . failed in part because they were too narrowly conceived or insufficiently carried out."

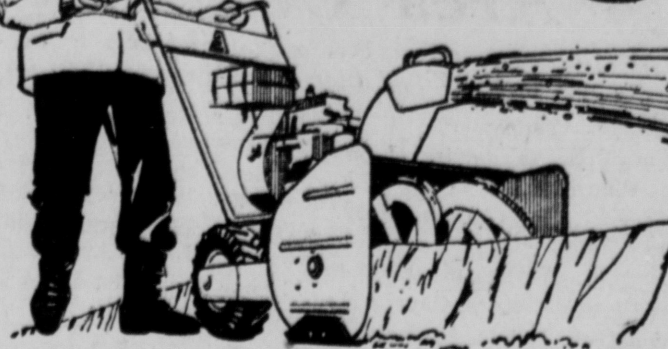

The members said that along with the racial troubles were the "problems of human relationships between the coaches and all players."

The committee said the football coaches were frustrated because of "their inability to maintain communication with players and . . . their inability to communicate their rationale for inevitable coaching-type decisions."

Jones said "It's a matter of wanting to understand the racial problems."

"It's so easy to say that problems are not problems but coaching decisions," he added.

Gas Heater Blamed in Death Of Buffalo Six

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — A defective gas heater was blamed Sunday for the asphyxiation of five men and a woman whose partially decomposed bodies were found in a five-room cottage littered with wine bottles on the city's near east side.

Erie County Medical Examiner Dr. Ralph E. Smith ruled the deaths accidental, maintaining all six died of carbon monoxide poisoning at least two days earlier.

Lt. Leo J. Donovan, chief of the homicide squad, said he concurred with the ruling and that evidence suggested no foul play was involved.

The bodies were removed to the Erie County Morgue for identification.

A pipe leading to the space heater in the living room of the 1½ story frame building "was separated from the heater by six or eight inches," Smith said. "All windows were closed."

The bodies were discovered by the landlord who went to the cottage to collect rent from the tenant, Robert Cunningham, police said. The landlord said he notified police when he entered the house and saw the bodies in the living room and den.

The cottage is located at 462 Hickory St.

Heart and Health

Mid-Hudson Heart Association Inc.

A possible link between mental stress and coronary artery disease was described at the annual scientific sessions of the American Heart Association, held in Atlantic City.

Scientists have long suspected an intimate connection between heart disease and emotional stress. There is evidence to show, for example, that high-strung deadline-ridden persons are more vulnerable to a heart attack than the more relaxed individual, but whether this can be directly attributed to a souped-up mental state is open to question.

In research carried on by a research group from the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, experimental results suggest how prolonged stress, by increasing the reservoir of available blood fat, could advance the development of atherosclerosis. This is a form of hardening of the arteries in which fats accumulate on the inside walls of blood vessels. The way in which these fatty increases are brought about is still not entirely understood. In part, however, the imposed activity impedes the action of a fat-clearing agent called heparin.

A regular physical check-up by the family doctor is recommended for everyone and may prove to be precautionary for "high-strung, deadline-ridden" persons.

sports including basketball, volleyball, judo, swimming, badminton and gymnastics. This will also be a great opportunity for girls from all over the county to meet and exchange views and ideas.

A special luncheonette feature will be a film on Cadette Scouting. A very important part of the day's program will be the kickoff time for the Junior Challenger Project 911 to be started in January.

This project will be the first event of its kind in Ulster County and is only for the sixth graders. All girls who want to be a part of this important and exciting county-wide project should plan to attend the Fun Day and become a part of the Junior Challengers.

All that is needed to take part is a nominal fee, parent's permission slip, a bag lunch plus drink and sports clothes, sneakers and a bathing suit and cap if you plan to swim.

Further information may be had by contacting any Junior Girl Scout troop leader. Planning this event are Mrs. Harold Kearney, chairman; Mrs. Edgar Stevens and Mrs. James Lapak.

Dear Abby

Blames 'Dumb' Gals

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always criticizing women. He says the worst thing that ever happened to this country is when they gave women the right to vote. He says they are nowhere near as intelligent as men, and all women should be kept pregnant or barefoot. Whenever he sees a driver do something dumb, he says, "That has got to be a dame!" He blames everything from the San Francisco earthquake to the Chicago fire on the stupidity of women. Next time he starts up with me about how dumb women are, what can I say to shut him up?

BELLE IN BROOKLYN

DEAR BELLE: Ask him why he didn't remain a bachelor.

DEAR ABBY: When I went overseas I had a girl who promised she would wait for me. We went together since eighth grade. Her letters kept me going, and I slept with her picture next to my heart every night. After I got home I found out she had been running around with other guys since the day I left. Everybody knew it but me. Her mother told me she kept on writing to me like everything was the same because she didn't want to break down my spirits while I was away.

She's getting married to a guy she's only known a month. I still love her, Abby. Please tell me how I can get over her? "GONE TO POT"

DEAR GONE: You can get over her by facing the facts. She is marrying someone else. If she started to run around on the day after you left, she's no bargain. Better to have had a cheating girl friend than a cheating wife. Maybe you're luckier than the guy she's marrying.

DEAR ABBY: I have read with much interest thru the years of your encounters with women who write. "My husband likes to wear lace panties, what shall I do?" Or, "Is my husband perverted because he sleeps in a nylon nightie?" Your answers usually reflect wisdom and compassion.

I am a 49-year-old man who has been wearing women's clothing for at least 40 years. I find much comfort in a corset, nylons and bloomers under my male attire.

My wife is very understanding, and has always helped me to obtain feminine clothing. We have raised three fine children. I am very masculine (outwardly) and have been a semi-trailer driver, racing car driver, and I enjoy many sports. I have never had any type of homosexual tendencies or desires. So, as long as I don't bother anybody, what is wrong with dressing as I wish in the privacy of my home?

If you use my letter, please sign me . . . "NORMAL" IN BEAVER DAM, WIS.

DEAR NORMAL: Nothing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE MEN OF THE 8TH SECURITY POLICE SQUADRON (COMBAT): If you aren't putting me on, I am delighted to be your pinup girl of the month. But the above address is insufficient. Complete the address and you shall have my picture for the POLICE BULLETIN BOARD. (P. S. I hope you realize it is only a "head" shot.)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. (Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 9:10 a.m. WKNY-1490)

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A most difficult day and evening during which it is necessary to refrain from doing anything that can upset or disturb others. You are apt to be so wrapped up in getting own way that real resentment is likely if another interferes. A day and evening to seek and develop the Christmas spirit.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Partner looks to you for new ideas and help, so do nothing that will irk him or her. Show courtesy and kindness toward everyone and all will be well. Make this a productive happy day.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study that work well before putting too much energy and effort into it. Confer with co-workers, also. Plan how and what to add to wardrobe, but do not buy as yet. Do some window-shopping first.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Congenials are too busy to join with you at recreations, so gad about by yourself and have a good time just the same. Put that special talent to work. Make an excellent impression on others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are tensions at home that can be relieved very easily if you use tact and wisdom. Get at the root of things. A cheerful attitude helps a great deal. Rise above pettiness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Much care must be exercised in motion of all kinds and also in shopping. Count your change, decide on the right things. Discount unsavory remarks from others and do not criticize. Avoid serious arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show that you know how to spend wisely and get the most for your money. Listen to the advice of business experts. Don't be fooled by high price tags on things. Try to get to bed early.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Stop trying to force others to do things as you like to have them done, but be of a more cooperative attitude. A word of encouragement goes a long way now. This also opens new doors of opportunity for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't burden yourself with the worries of others or vice versa, and be sure to handle own affairs quietly yourself. Curb your curiosity with regard to others. Find some new hobby that will please you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Not a good day to get together with good pals since they have their work to do, so gad about by yourself or handle some important business. Avoid trouble of all kinds. Pay bills promptly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you back higher-ups now, you find you gain their goodwill by doing what is right. Handle outside responsibilities efficiently. Avoid persons you know little about and do not trust.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have new ideas that require more study before you put them in operation. A new contact could give you answers stamped, addressed envelope. For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. (Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 9:10 a.m. WKNY-1490) to problems that you have not been able to get before. This person has much experience.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have some particular duty to perform for a higher-up, but you had better ask for further instructions before you go ahead with it. Make sure to carry through with promises to others, also. Show you are a conscientious person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who likes to cooperate with others and be of service to them, which is fine. Provided you teach early to be only with the finest types of individuals. Otherwise much trouble could ensue throughout the lifetime. There is much neatness and precision here and professional chosen should be one where such qualities are the prerequisites. Give good spiritual training early, too.

"The Stars imply, they do not compel!" What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for January is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Daily Freeman, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SLAPPED: (Q.) I'm not too shy or anything. But I always try to respect the girls I take out. What bothers me is this:

If I don't try anything, something like kissing, then the girl tells all her friends that I didn't even try anything. But if I do try something I end up getting slapped. What is the matter? I am 17. — Can't Win in Connecticut.

(A.) A date is not a game in which you score or are scored on. It is an interlude between a boy and a girl in which the moods of both are very important.

Respect not only the girl you're with, but also her mood. Do not take any abrupt actions that might upset the mood she is in. If you sense she is not in the mood to be kissed, don't try. If you sense she IS in the mood to be kissed, kiss her. She won't slap you.

IN PUBLIC: (Q.) I read your advice about kids kissing on the bus. What about adults? My girl friend and I were on the bus last Saturday night and this couple got on. They were at least 35. They started kissing. Everybody could see him doing it.

I'm 16 and I know what goes on, but why do you say it's wrong for kids to kiss on the bus and you don't say anything about adults?—Embarrassed Boy in Philadelphia.

(A.) The question was about teen-agers. But what I said goes for adults, too. People of all ages should refrain from public kissing and love-making. It brands them as uncouth and it embarrasses those who have to watch them.

Reds Bomb Cambodians Near Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — The Cambodian command said today Viet Cong and North Vietnamese units bombarded Cambodian positions slightly more than seven miles from downtown Phnom Penh Sunday night.

Communiques from Saigon said Viet Cong gunners shelled

Da Nang air base and a nearby U.S. Marine unit and terrorists set off a bomb near a Saigon rail yard.

The U.S. command said American troop strength in Vietnam decreased by another 1,500 men last week and gave phase 6 of President Nixon's withdrawal program a head start. The command said 339,200 U.S. servicemen were in the war zone as of Dec. 17, the lowest since the week ending Oct. 22, 1966, where there were 337,400 GIs in Vietnam. The Nixon administration plans to reduce troop strength to a maximum of 284,000 men between Jan. 1 and May 1, 1971. The Cambodian command said the Communist mortar attack was against the village of Peam Oknha Ong on the east bank of the Mekong River. Windows rattled in the capital as four Cambodian T28 bombers bombed suspected Viet Cong positions around Peam Oknha Ong.

In other parts of Cambodia, the command said Viet Cong forces blew up another bridge on Highway 4 linking Phnom Penh to the port of Kompong Som. The Communists have blocked the road for a month, cutting off access to Cambodia's only oil refinery.

Lt. Col Am Rong, the official Cambodian military spokesman said the blown bridge was at Dalath, 45 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, the scene of two weekend battles in which six Communist troops were killed, 122 mm rockets struck the headquarters of the U.S. 5th Marine Regiment, 200 miles south of the base. No casualties were reported in either shelling.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said four rockets hit Da Nang air base early today and 10 minutes later two six-foot-long 122 mm rockets struck the headquarters of the U.S. 5th Marine Regiment, 200 miles south of the base. No casualties were reported in either shelling.

The shelling and a terrorist explosion in Saigon that caused no casualties fell in the midst of the 24th anniversary of the start of the French Indochina war and 10th anniversary of the founding of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front. South Vietnamese spokesmen said government rangers sweeping through the Mekong Delta 132 miles southwest of Saigon killed 31 Viet Cong after calling in air strikes and artillery fire. One South Vietnamese ranger was wounded.

Lift for 376 Stranded GIs

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. Air Force brought in a fleet of its own planes today to fly 376 American GIs home for Christmas after the South Vietnamese government refused to allow a chartered Pan American Airways 747 jumbo jet to land at Tan Son Nhut airbase.

Military sources said the last of the temporarily stranded GIs left late today aboard four Air Force C-141 Starlifter jet transport planes. The C-141s were rushed to Vietnam after the 747 scheduled to arrive Sunday night failed to arrive. The Pan Am 747 would have been the first 747 to land in South Vietnam. But the flight was canceled before it left San Francisco after the Saigon government refused permission to land at Tan Son Nhut. "There are technical problems and the (Tan Son Nhut) landing strip is not available right now for jumbo jets (747s)," a South Vietnamese spokesman said. "The air strip should be modified to be suitable for them." Pan American officials gave no details on the negotiations with the Saigon government but unofficial sources said Pan Am had tried to get rights for regular commercial 747 jets to stop in Saigon.

The same sources said the South Vietnamese government was trying to get Pan Am to pay for widening of the runways at Tan Son Nhut before it would grant landing rights for 747s. The GIs scheduled to board the 747 for the flight home had put on dress uniforms Sunday night and were ready to be taken by bus to Tan Son Nhut from Long Binh, 18 miles north of Saigon. Air Force officials said they were not taken to the air base when officials could get no confirmation the 747 was coming.

Timetable in POW Swap Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the drive to free American POWs in North Vietnam are beginning to favor the idea—so far opposed by the administration—of offering a troop withdrawal timetable in return for the prisoners' release.

The idea also appears to have support in the Senate, where early in the next session it could provide the basis for another stiff battle over administration war policies.

"If we're getting out of Vietnam anyway, why not get something for it," said Charles Havens, former member of the Pentagon's Prisoner of War Committee and now counsel for the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia.

The development signals something of a drift from the league's heretofore close alignment with the Nixon administration, which still rejects a fixed timetable for withdrawing American troops.

Mrs. Bobby G. Vinson, national coordinator of the league, says she thinks the timetable-POW bargain should be tried and that other relatives of captured and missing men probably feel the same way.

Communist negotiators at the Paris peace talks have offered to take up the prisoner problem immediately if the United States will set a date for getting its troops out of South Vietnam. Initially they demanded a June 30, 1971, deadline, but last Thursday asked the United States to propose any "reasonable date."

U.S. diplomats have rejected the idea so far. President Nixon has said setting a timetable would remove any incentive for the Communists to bargain effectively in Paris.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, in a floor speech Saturday, called on the administration to accept a timetable-POW swap.

The Montana Democrat said the scope of U.S. involvement has not decreased in the past year and peace appears no closer.

Mansfield's speech may or may not be significant in view of indications Senate doves may try again in the next session of Congress to legislate a deadline for U.S. troop withdrawal.

Both Havens and Mrs. Vinson said they would support such a move.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., a chief sponsor of the so-called Amendment to End the War that was defeated last summer, said in an interview the United States should accept the offer by North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

Sources in McGovern's office indicated a new measure would be offered early in the next session embodying a withdrawal deadline but containing a provision that if repatriation of prisoners were not progressing satisfactorily, the deadline would be extended.

Senate Is Holding Key To Adjournment Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today held the key to congressional adjournment but remained locked in debate over the controversial supersonic transport—SST—program.

Senate sources say once the SST fight is resolved disputes over other bills can be settled quickly. But they admit the prospects of this occurring before Christmas are dim.

SST supporters tried Saturday to shut off debate on the program but the move was rejected 48-42. A new effort is scheduled Tuesday but there seems little chance supporters can gain the necessary two-thirds vote.

The roadblocks to adjournment all lie in the Senate, largely due to changes made by Senate-House conference committees trying to compromise differences in bills passed by each chamber. Most of the changes go against the position the Senate has taken.

Besides the SST controversy, a break is believed near in a stalemate over U.S.-Southeast Asia policy, but the Senate is making only slow progress on the massive Social Security-welfare-trade bill.

The Senate took one test vote on President Nixon's family assistance plan Saturday, rejecting 65-15 a move to kill the proposal. However, there appeared no early sign of a vote on the plan itself.

The White House said over the weekend that President Nixon would force the 92nd Congress to convene immediately after the current session ends on Jan. 3 unless there is action on his legislation.

The President can do this by simply refusing to sign the congressional resolution that sets Jan. 21 for the next session to start.

The SST is part of an appropriations bill for the Department of Transportation. Under the current parliamentary situation, the Senate can only accept or reject the entire bill. It cannot vote separately on the SST, which it earlier rejected 52-41. The House always has supported the program.

A proposed compromise fell through late Saturday when Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leading SST proponents, reportedly rejected it. The compromise would have allowed funding of the Transportation Department and of the SST program until early next year when Congress could again consider the matter.

The House largely is marking time, dealing with uncontroversial legislation and acting on conference reports. The major progress resulting from a closed session Friday night and a series of private conferences Saturday concerned five foreign aid and defense bills involved in the year-long effort of Senate doves to restrict U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

There were reports late Saturday, however, that some hawkish House members were holding out against a $66.6 billion defense money bill because it contained restrictions on use of U.S. ground combat troops in Laos, Thailand and Cambodia. The House members reportedly were against the bill even though these restrictions have once been watered down.

Cardinal Cooke Prays for Peace

SAIGON (UPI) — Cardinal Terence Cooke of New York, military vicar to Roman Catholic U. S. servicemen, arrived in Vietnam today for a week-long Christmas visit to "pray for peace."

The 49-year-old archbishop of New York told newsmen on his arrival: "I come with the gratitude and very good wishes of the American people to our servicemen."

Dressed in a simple black clerical suit, the cardinal arrived in Vietnam from Japan and Korea where he had celebrated Mass for thousands of American servicemen.
